What War Democrats say of Peace Democrats.

The Louisville Democrat, the leading democratic paper of that state, says:—"There can be no true democracy while treason keeps its armies in the field except war democracy." The office-hunters who, at a time like this, preach peace, peace, in the north, may be democrats in name, but in reality they are tories and traitors, who would be in arms against their government were they living in the so-called confederacy.

We notice, also, that the St. Louis Republican, the leading democratic paper of Missouri, expresses similar opinions in regard to the peace movements of the northern democrats.

The sentiments and arguments put forward by the peace democrats of the north are so identical with those of the secesh of the border states that the loyal papers of those states have become alarmed and are combating them with great vigor. The Frankfort, Ky., Commonwealth of Feb. 2d, says: "We wish the peace party would make their dear friends in the seceded states keep the peace in Kentucky before they cry peace. Their cry of peace means simply to surrender to this rebellion; that is all of it. It means to sell out Kentucky to her mortal enemies, who will never forgive her resistance to the wicked schemes of ambition in the cotton states. Let those who wish such a destiny for Kentucky, cry peace. We shall submit to it when all are subjugated."

These are the feelings of loyal Union men at the south. They now see what will be their fate if the schemes of the northern friends of the rebels are adopted by a majority of the people; they perceive that they are to be sacrificed the moment these enemies of the government succeed in their designs.

What are these plans? It is natural that the Union democrats of the states most exposed to the machinations of these traitors should first discover their programme. The Missouri Democrat publishes a letter from Springfield, Illinois, which lays bare their plans of revolution. This correspondent says:

"A well-digested plan is prepared by the democratic leaders in the western and eastern states. That plan, though revolutionary in its end, is intended not to be so in its means, up to a certain point, if possible. As many legislatures of the free states as can be prevailed on are to be got to send commissioners to Louisville, Kentucky, to meet commissioners from the border and as many of the slave states as possible. If the republican, especially the New England states, do not send commissioners, they are to be left out. If they do, no matter; a plan of compromise is to be offered which will force them out of the Union, thus putting them in the attitude of rebellion. They are not wanted. The confederacy is to comprise the western states and Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, &c.; so that there will be an outlet to the sea on the east via New York, and on the south via New Orleans. When this convention, so-called, at Louisville, meets, it is to be virtually a congress. It will invite the southern states into its deliberations. Of those that come in, and with those of the north that can be got to join it, a confederacy is to be formed, in which slavery is to be legalized and guaranteed in every possible way and abolitionism crushed out. Cut off from New England, it is hoped that free speech and free ideas will be so effectually disposed of as to set at rest forever all agitation of slavery. Indeed, agitation on a great many other subjects is also to be effectually crushed out."

Senator Wright, of Indiana, an old fashioned democrat, in a recent effort in his place in the United States senate, delivered a speech full of pluck and patriotism. He has the courage to denounce and expose the designs of the secesh democrats of the northern states. We copy:

Senators, if ever this capital falls, it will be because of traitors in the north. If you fail to put down this secession movement, if the hour of calamity comes upon us, I make the prediction that it will come from the hand of traitors in the north. I am not sure that there was not a concocted plan within the last ten days to bring into this city two regiments to co-operate with the secessionists with a view to surrender this capital. The rebel emissaries are about you; they may be in these very halls. Sometimes they come under one name, sometimes under another. Sometimes the government is attacked in the name of democracy; sometimes fault is found with arrests; sometimes the army is opposed; but the effect of all these attacks results in the accomplishment of the same bad end, the destruction of the government. I say that every loyal man and woman in this country ought to be protected; but I repeat, and the honest democracy of Indiana will sustain me in the sentiment, if there is no other way to save the country, let destruction do its work among the enemies of the republic, for the government must and shall be preserved, cost what it may.

With these accumulating evidences from well known democrats of the treasonable designs of the leaders of the democratic party in the north, ought not loyal men of that party to pause and think before they commit themselves to its dictation?

Jeff Davis' "retaliation" proclamation is censured, in very strong language, by the London Times, and the rebel president advised not to attempt its enforcement, as it may cause him the loss of the friendship of both France and England.

An Important Revelation.

The Paris Moniteur, of the 16th of December, contains the official documents of the French empire for the year, and a selection from the diplomatic correspondence. The New York Evening Post, of the 3d instant, gives an account of that part of the French "Yellow Book" which relates to the affairs of the United States. As the account is long, we give at present only that portion of it which relates to an interview with Mr. Seward, and the agency that functionary had in the visit of the French minister to Richmond last spring. We think it rather extraordinary, and worthy the consideration of the people:

M. Mercier replies to M. Thouvenel, March 31, 1862, that, according to his instructions, he had held an interview with Mr. Seward, and was awaiting the news of the fate of New Orleans. The French minister afterwards reports a conversation which he had held with influential personages; and who, in answer to his remark that the war increased daily the bitterness between the north and the south, said: "We do not expect to reunite (rattacher) the south with us against its will, but we hope that, after having relieved it from the influence of its present leaders, and having given it a severe lesson, it will return to the right path. We are resolved to carry on the test to the end, and if afterwards the majority of the states persist in a separation, we will let them have it." M. Mercier believes that this is the ruling opinion in the north; that the mass of the public is beginning to get tired of the war, but that its conservative instinct still binds it strongly to the Union, and which it hopes to see preserved by a melange of victories and concessions.

A dispatch, bearing date April 13, throws a little light upon the journey undertaken to Richmond by Baron Mercier, and which created such excitement at the time. It appears that he undertook it at the suggestion of Mr. Seward himself, who then believed in the speedy re-establishment of the Union, and without having previously informed the French government of his intention. Before his departure M. Mercier came to an understanding with Lord Lyons, and reported to Mr. Seward that the object of his journey was not connected with the recognition of the south, but only an attempt to bring about an arrangement. The secretary charged him to state at Richmond that the north was actuated by no sentiments of revenge, and that great satisfaction would be afforded to the inhabitants by the sight of such senators as the south might consent to send.

From the Worcester Spy.

A Thrilling Incident of the War.

Nine or ten years ago a citizen of one of the towns in the eastern part of Massachusetts was unjustly suspected of a crime which the statute cannot easily reach, but which deservedly brings upon him guilty of it the indignation of upright men. There were circumstances which gave color to the suspicion, and the unfortunate gentleman suffered the misery of loss of friends, business and reputation. His sensitive nature could not face these trials, and he fell into a condition of body and mind which alarmed his family. At length, having invested his property where it could be easily managed by his wife, he suddenly disappeared, leaving her a comfortable home and the care of two boys, of ten and twelve years. The first fear that he had sought a violent death was partly dispelled by the orderly arrangement of his affairs, and the discovery that a daguerreotype of the family group was missing from the parlor table. Not much effort was made to trace the fugitive. When, afterward, facts were developed which established his innocence in the crime with which he was charged, it was found impossible to communicate with him; and as the publication of the story in the columns of several widely circulated journals failed to recall him, he was generally supposed to be dead.

At the outbreak of the present civil war, his eldest son, now a young man, was induced by a friend, a captain in a western regiment, to enlist in his company. He carried himself well through campaigns in Missouri and Tennessee, and after the capture of Fort Donelson was rewarded with a first lieutenant's commission. At the battle of Murfreesboro he was wounded in the left arm, but so slightly that he was still able to take charge of a squad of wounded prisoners. While performing this duty he became aware that one of them, a middle-aged man, with a full, heavy beard, was looking at him with fixed attention. The day after the fight, as the officer was passing, the soldier gave the military salute, and said:

"A word with you, if you please, sir. You remind me of an old friend. Are you from New England?"

"I am."

"From Massachusetts?"

"Yes."

"And your name?"

The young lieutenant told his name, and why he came to serve in a western regiment.

"I thought so," said the other, and turning away, he was silent. Although his curiosity was excited by the soldier's manner, the officer forebore to question him, and withdrew. But in the afternoon he took occasion to renew the conversation, and expressed the interest awakened in him by the incident of the morning.

"I knew your father," said the prisoner. "Is he well?"

"We have not seen him for years. We think he is dead."

Then followed such an explanation of circumstances of his disappearance as the young man could give. He had never known the precise nature of the charges against his father, but was able to make it quite clear that his innocence had been established.

"I knew your mother, too," continued the soldier. "I was in love with her when she married your father."

"I had a letter from her, dated ten days ago. My brother is a nine months' man, at New Orleans."

After a little desultory conversation, the soldier took from under his coat a leathern wallet, and disclosed a daguerreotype case. The hasp was gone, and the corners were rounded by wear.

"Will you oblige me," he said, "by looking at this alone in your tent?" Agitated almost beyond control, the young officer took the case and hurried away. He had seen the picture before! It represented a man and a woman, sitting side by side, with a boy at the knee of each.

The romantic story moved the commander of the division to grant the youth a furlough, and both father and son reached home last week.

LEGISLATION.—By private advices from Madison we learn that Mr. Rountree has obtained his seat in the assembly, in place of Mr. Harms who had the certificate. In the senate, the President being absent, as well as several republican senators, the democrats elected Sat. Clark president pro tem. until Monday evening.

Old Dr. Beecher once prayed: "O Lord we pray Thee that we may not despise our rulers; and, O Lord, we further pray that they may not behave so that we cannot help it!"

THE MODERN ARNOLD.

Fitz John Porter Branded and Turned Loose.

The Revolutionary struggle produced a traitor Arnold; the second war with England produced another—Hull; and the third war for American liberty has produced a third—Porter.

Passing over the period when Porter was the pet and "secret emissary of the thief and traitor Floyd, and was sent by that miscreant on a confidential mission to Fort Sumter; and passing over his insidious advice to the loyal soldier in command that "were he in charge, he would not attempt to defend the work, if attacked from the land side;" passing over his performances when acting as chief of staff under Patterson during the first battle of Bull Run, when by his advice and influence the force of Patterson was withheld from reinforcing or helping McDowell, which caused the carnage and disasters of that dreadful day; passing from thence, we trace Porter as the leading adviser of the long and inglorious inactivity before Manassas; the engineer who protracted the disgraceful siege of Yorktown; the strategist who deliberately planted his batteries in a ravine (in one of the seven days' battles), instead of on a hight, while he streamed his regiments before a raking fire of the enemy; the beau sabreur who fled precipitately from the sneers of brave McCall, when the butternut lines were advancing upon them at Gaines' Mill; the traitor who failed Pope at Centreville, and the ungrateful comrade who, when Burnside was sinking under the accumulated weight of Hill and Longstreet, at Antietam, refused reinforcements out of the 30,000, which had stood idle under him during all the fierce temptations of that day. His whole career, therefore, is one consistent current of darkly suspicious acts; and, at the end, he stands convicted by the solemn judgment of his peers, of a villainy which equals the measure of the worst that had been thought of him before. It is seldom that, in the course even of the longest life, one man has the opportunity for so much evil as Fitz Porter found in the space of twenty months; and that he improved all the occasions which were thus presented, no one who has read the testimony in the recent trial, and been an observer of his previous career, can, for a moment, doubt.

The charges against him in that proceeding were, that having, while at Warrenton Junction, Virginia, on the evening of the 27th August last, received an urgent order from General Pope to move forward at one o'clock on the following morning to Bristow Station, (which was but nine miles distant,) in order to be able to attack the enemy at daylight; he deliberately disobeyed that order, went to sleep upon it, and did not begin to move his men till daylight. The second charge was, that on the day but one afterward, to-wit, the 29th of August, he, while in sight of the enemy, at the distance of but a mile and a half for seven hours, did, after receiving an order to attack, shamefully turn his back upon the foe, whose inferior force he might easily have crushed, and march from the sound of the hostile cannon with his whole division, thus leaving the exhausted federal forces to be outnumbered and driven disastrously back upon Arlington Hights and Alexandria.

The testimony on the second charge makes some astounding revelations. It appears that on the morning of the 20th, Porter and McDowell were ordered to move forward together on a given road, and follow it till they met the enemy, unless McDowell, who ranked Fitz John, should decide that any considerable advantages were to be gained by pursuing a different course. On arriving at a certain point in their march, McDowell decided that the commands had better be separated, and informing the accused that he, McDowell, would move on with his division, and attack the enemy upon the centre, directed him to take a road leading to the left where the rising dust showed that the enemy might there be taken in the flank. The accused, however, instead of receiving the order with the spirit of a soldier, merely pointed with his hand to the dust rising above the trees and remarked—"We cannot go in there, anywhere, without getting into a fight." The answer of McDowell was—"That's what we came for!" whereupon being full of his business he hurriedly rode off. Porter then, in a mere semblance of obedience ordered a portion of his forces, under Griffin, to move forward, but when they had advanced about 600 yards he directed them to halt. In this position he remained till after five o'clock p. m., with his 13,000 well appointed men, perfectly idle before an inferior number of the foe, who all the while were contributing to harrass and overwhelm our centre. Amazed at Porter's absence from the fight, Pope at length sent him an order dated at half-past four p. m., "to push forward into action at once, on the enemy's right flank, and, if possible, upon his rear." This order was delivered to him at half-past five o'clock, he received it while lying down under a shade tree, and without attempting to obey, he continued reposing in the same manner, during the twenty minutes the messenger remained. In noticing the testimony on this point, Judge Holt employs the following language:

"The accused had, for between five and six hours, been listening to the sounds of the battle raging immediately to his right. Its dust and smoke were before his eyes, and the reverberation of the artillery was in his ears. He must have known the exhaustion and carnage consequent upon this prolonged conflict, and he had reason to believe, as shown by his note to Generals McDowell and King, that our army was giving way before the heavy reinforcements of the enemy. He had a command of some 13,000 fresh and well appointed troops, who had marched but a few miles, and had not fought at all on that day. Under these circumstances, should not an order to charge the enemy have electrified him as a soldier, and have brought him not only to his feet and to his saddle, but have awakened the sounds of eager preparation throughout his camp? But the bugle-note of this order seems to have fallen unheeded, and after reading it, and at the close of an interview of from fifteen to twenty minutes, the messenger who bore it, turned away, leaving the accused still 'lying on the ground.'"

In a little while after the departure of the messenger, Porter gave an order to fall back, and deliberately retired altogether from the theater of the still raging battle. All this was known two days afterward by McClellan, yet he reinined Fitz John as his chief corps commander, and permitted him to perform the same part, with 30,000 men, at the subsequent battle of Antietam.

"But there is one feature of the inaction of the accused on the 29th," says Judge Advocate Holt, "which it is especially sorrowful to contemplate. How, with the cannonade of the battle in his ears, and its smoke and the dust of the gathering forces before his eyes, he could, for seven and a-half or eight hours, resist the temptation to plunge into the combat, it is difficult to conceive. But this alone is not the saddest aspect in which his conduct presents itself. Colonel Marshal states that, from the cheerings and peculiar yells of the enemy heard on the evening of the 29th, he, and every man of his command, believed that Gen. Pope's army was being driven from the field."

It is further stated by Judge Holt that the members of the Court were convinced, from the testimony "that a vigorous attack upon the enemy by the accused, at any time between twelve o'clock, when the battle began, and dark, when it closed, would have secured a triumph for our arms, and not only the overthrow of the rebel forces, but probably the destruction of Jackson's army." This opinion, in effect, is emphatically expressed by Gens. Pope, McDowell and Roberts, and by Lieut. Col. Smith, all of whom participated in the engagement, and were well qualified to judge. Gen. Roberts, who was on the field throughout the day, says: "I do not doubt at all that it would have resulted in the defeat, if not the capture of the main army of the confederates that were in the field at that time." To the same effect is the explicit language of Gen. Pope, while McDowell says that, "even had the attack itself failed, the number of troops which would have been withdrawn from the main battle by the enemy to effect this result, would have so far relieved our center as to render our victory complete."

Upon such revelations and such proofs as these, did the court unanimously find Fitz John Porter guilty of the crimes alleged against him; and upon their virdict did the President strike the malefactor from the rolls and declare him to be hereafter utterly unfit to wear a sword, or to hold any office of trust or profit under the government of the United States. It was a punishment far short of the measure of the crime; for the culprit should have been run up to a limb, or at least led out and shot. But the President, doubtless credited him with some remaining sensibility to human shame, and therefore judged it to be a keener penalty to force him to live and walk about among his former fellow men, with a brand upon his forehead which stamps him not only as the murderer of Kearney and of Stevens, but the real betrayer of Antietam and both battles of Bull Run. He therefore stalks an outcast, bearing upon his brow the mark of Cain, inviting, but for the decorum of the law, the pistol of every loyal man, and worthy only of the commiseration of the chief who so unduly pampered and advanced him. —*N. Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the 33d Regiment.

MOSCOW, Tenn., Jan. 22d, 1863.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Since I last wrote you we have moved forty miles northward and are now located forty miles east of Memphis, on the Memphis and Charleston railroad. We left Holly Springs one week ago last Saturday night, and reached this place the following Monday. Holly Springs has been a place of considerable importance, a seat of enterprise, prosperity and refinement. The streets are laid out regularly and adorned with much taste, while the suburbs abound with many elegant private residences that would be a credit and an ornament to any city. Several large railroad machine shops, whose ruins are fitting emblems of the decay and desolation that the ravages of war have spread over the face of this whole land, are mournful evidences of former mechanical industry, thrift and skill. The whole place suffered from Van Dorn's raid, many of the fairest portions being razed with the ground, and when our troops abandoned it, the work of devastation and destruction was complete. Up to the the time of our arrival hither we had been favored with as fine dry roads as I ever saw, but now the wet season has set in we have nothing but rain and mud. Transportation was comparatively easy, now 'tis totally impracticable, and our long march and counter-march of two hundred miles, after God knows what, is brought to a halt for the present. We may have accomplished much, but we can't see it, unless it be found in cotton bales and irrepresibles. Snow fell here to the depth of four inches, but rain succeeding it snow disappeared.

I think I have given you a fair description of our tents and told you of their total inadequacy to supply us with shelter from the storm. They are the famous D'Aubrie or shelter tent and are but the shadow, if a shade better than none at all. They will not turn heavy rain, while both ends are open, and so low are they that one is perforced to get onto his hands and knees to get into them. They are certainly the poorest excuse that could possibly be devised, and to keep dry in one is out of the question. Not one in fifty has a constitution sufficient to withstand the hardship and exposure attendant upon our manner of living, nor can we think but that in a great measure such privations are unnecessary. It is a lasting shame to our government that thousands, aye millions of dollars are spent for superfluities, while we are exposed to the inclemency of every storm and denied the shelter which is indispensably necessary to our existence as an effective army. It is short sighted enconomy that denies the soldier a positive necessity, and may be they will find it out some day. Hundreds of this regiment are now on the sick list for want of shelter, and if the dog kennel policy is persisted in two months we shall not be able to muster 400 men for duty. A member of my own company, Corporall Sam. E. Lyon, a man brave, generous and true, died a short time since in the general hospital at Holly Springs, a victim to shelter (?) tents. If there is one thing more than another calculated to dampen a man's ardor or cool his patriotism, it is treatment such as this. We expected to endure hardships and fatigue, and to be deprived of home comforts, but it does not flatter us to have the government suppose that when we became soldiers we ceased to be men. We enlisted to put down the rebellion and to aid in re-establishing law and order where they had been subverted; and we had a right to expect that the government would duly appreciate our self-denial and patriotic promptings, and not refuse us articles indispensable to a good sanitary condition; and like the Spartans of old, we feel that we are not born for ourselves alone but for our country also, and we have a right to suppose that she will welcome to her arms and cherish every one of her brave sons, who may hazard his genius or worth upon her battle-fields. All we ask is the indispensables and an early and honorable peace.—We want a more vigorous policy, dull delay, we deprecate, and an unnecessary absence from home grows irksome. Give us able men, in whom we can place unbounded confidence, generals whom we can follow to certain victory. Then to fall will be a boon coveted by all, for if there is an honor which the American soldier conceives to be higher, purer, nobler than any other it is that of being permitted to die in the defense of his country. This is not mere declamation, but the honest expression of the sentiments of hundreds with whom I have conversed on the subject.

We have been twice threatened by Van Dorn, with six thousand cavalry, but he has not yet ventured an attack. When he does, he will meet with a warm reception, as we are on the qui vive for him. The old regiments are getting two months pay, but 'tis doubtful about the new ones receiving any at present. Many threaten desertion before they will allow their families to suffer at home for want of their protection and care. I am under obligations to you for several copies of the Gazette and hope the favor will be extended. But I have trespassed too long already. More anon.

Last Night's Report.

FORT DONELSON, Feb. 5.

A great battle was fought here Tuesday, Feb. 3d, between the 83d Illinois, commanded by Col. Harding, and Flood's battery, amounting to some 700 men, against Forrest's, Wheeler's and Wharton's rebel forces, comprising 5000 troops.

The attack was made by the rebels about 1 p. m., and raged furiously until 8 o'clock, when the rebels retired. The defeat was perfect, they leaving in great disorder. Their flight was precipitated by forces under Col. Lowe, from Fort Henry, who reached here about 12 at night.

The enemy's dead are yet being brought in. Their loss is not less than 200 killed and 600 wounded.

Our loss is twelve killed and forty-one wounded and missing. The enemy have retreated southward.

To-Day's Report.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 6.

Rumors, not traceable to any authority, prevail that Morgan's force in Kentucky contemplate a raid on Lexington, and the banks and business men there have gathered their money and valuables preparatory to an escape. It is also reported that Shelbyville has been captured by federal troops.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7—5 A. M.

A special from Cairo to the Tribune says that a Memphis despatch announces the arrival of the steamer Adaline from Vicksburg. The ram Queen of the West ran the blockade on Monday morning at daylight. A hundred heavy siege guns opened on her as she steamed past. The rebel steamer also opened fire on the Queen, which she replied to, and the rebel steamer was crippled. The Queen was under fire three-quarters of an hour.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Special to Tribune.—There were two circles of blockading ships off Charleston harbor. The outer one, in deep water, was seven miles from Sumter; the inner one was upon the bar. Sailors in the navy department are certain that the rebel ironclads went down only to the latter. They were not calculated for the deep and rough water beyond, and it is declared that they did not go near to, or menace the second circle of large blockaders. Gen. Rufus King has been appointed military governor of Norfolk, vice Gen. Viele, who will be transferred to a more active command.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Times' special.—The house committee of ways and means had informally under consideration to-day the senate's amendments to the finance bill. The committee accept them all except the reduction of legal tenders. They will insist upon three hundred millions, but allows the secretary to judge of the necessity of their issue. The senate finance committee and Secretary Chase are in entire accord relative to the finance bill. The views of the house committee of ways and means is also daily approaching nearer and nearer to those of the senate. The finance committee of the senate, and the committee of ways and means, will probably unite on recommending a tax of ½ per cent. on all speculative transactions in gold.

The Spanish minister here has received a royal decree from Madrid, announcing that passports from foreigners will not be required hereafter in traveling through the Spanish dominions.

Senator Henderson, of Missouri, has just received the following telegram in regard to the senatorial contest in that state:

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 5.

Glover and Breckenridge withdrawn.—Brodhead 58, Brown 45, Phelps 46.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Herald Special.—The case of General Buell is concluded and the finding of the court transmitted to the President.

A. James, formerly prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio, has been appointed associate judge advocate general in this city, with rank of major. D. Pratt has been appointed assistant inspector general with rank of lieutenant colonel.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

By an arrival at Suffolk from Richmond, we learn that the new Merrimac is now lying between seven and eight miles below Richmond. It is pierced for two guns on each side and will carry one forward and aft. The vessel is pronounced by many a failure, while others are confident of its success. Four other iron-clads are in process of construction there. The rebels are throwing up earthworks in every direction for the defence of the rebel capital.

Advices have been received from Dominica, West Indias, to the 26th of January. The U. S. steamer San Jacinto called there to inquire after the Alabama. The British war ship Vesuvius was at Bermuda on the 27th of January, and reported that the French army had been defeated in an attack on Puebla, and had lost 3000 men.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

The World's correspondent with Banks' expedition, writes that Farragut's fleet is so diminished that it wont be possible to attack Port Hudson until reinforced.

Advices from Galveston, via Havana give Col. Boles proclamation to foreign consuls notifying them and all foreign subjects, and all otherns concerned, that Galveston is liable to be attacked any day by the U. S. forces; 24 hours will be given for the innocent and helpless to withdraw.

The reported defeat of the French in Mexico proves to have been a Mexican rumor. By last advices the French seige trains were advancing towards Orizaba, from which point a column was to march to co-operate with columns from Jalapa, both columns to unite at a point four leagues distant from Puebla, where a stout resistence is anticipated.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 6.

Gen. Davis with cavalry and artillery have been sent to intercept the rebels who attacked Donelson under Morgan. We buried 135 rebels at Donelson. The rebel Gen. Forest was wounded.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

HOUSE.—The house resumed the consideration of the Illinois and New York ship canal bills.

Mr. Kellogg thought that the discussion would not change a vote, but he wanted to show that as early as 1787, the question was agitated of connecting the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Mexico.

SENATE.—A communication was received from the secretary of the interior asking an increased appropriation for land offices in Kansas.

The house bill for an increased efficiency in the commissary department, was passed.

TWO SHOOTING CASES.—A man named McGinnis was shot at Camp Utley, Racine, by a soldier named Hewit last week. No cause assigned for the act. McGinnis is not expected to live. Another similar affair occurred at Madison. John Ward, a shoemaker, was shot by Geo. D. Harwood of the 25th regiment. A difficulty originated in a ball room; a scuffle ensued: Ward used a knife, when Harwood drew a pistol and shot Ward, who died Wednesday.

☞ Mr. Stevens declared in the house of representatives, on the 2d inst., that he "believed the democrats at the North were holding secret meetings under the league of Knights of the Golden Circle, with the view of seizing control of the government and the person of the President."

☞ We have it upon the authority of "Burleigh," the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, that Mr. A. T. Stewart, of New York, has refused to sell cotton goods at any price, and that he has been engaged in buying up all the goods he could purchase; that empty stores have been taken, warehouses rented and filled to the rafters with goods; and this done, he closed sales, and waits for coming events.

DIED.

At Overton Hospital, in Memphis, Tenn., on the 23d day of December 1862, of typhoid fever, N. A. BABCOCK, only son of Manville and C. S. Babcock, in the 18th year of his age.

The deceased was a young man of unusual promise, of an unblemished character, with a heart filled with all those generous impulses that make up the nobler attributes of man. He leave a large circle of friends, who mourn his untimely death, and whodeeply sympathize with the grief stricken parents in their sad bereavement. Mr. Babcock enlisted from the town of Lima, Rock county, in Co. E, 33d regiment Wisconsin volunteers, Capt. Ira Miltimore. In the hour of his country's peril, the deceased nobly responded to his country's call, and has given his young life to purchase the liberty of the nation and protect it from destruction by traitor hands. Nobly done. Nobly died.

The funeral obsequies were performed at Lima Center on the 25th of January, 1863. Services being performed by Mr. Wiltse, of the city of Janesville, who deeply interested a large audience for the space of one hour. The text used: He is not dead, but sleepeth.

OHIO PREMIUM
GRAIN DRILL
AND
Grass Seed Sower.

HAVING sold over three hundred of these drills in this state the past year, and and eleven hundred having been used in northern Illinois and this state during the same time, all of them giving satisfaction, has induced me to advertise some of the peculiar properties of this drill over others.

It is a double rank drill, with a driver's seat attached or not at the pleasure of the purchaser. It will sow all kinds of grain and grass seed. It will not break or cut the grain, and will sow from 1½ to 5 bushels per acre.

It will sow correct when driving fast or slow. The quantity is gauged without any change of gear, can be easily changed from double to single rank, can in sowing use one half the drill or less if desired.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT
Is so attached that the operator can drive and work his drill with perfect ease, without the trouble of getting off to turn around, and he sits in such a position that he can see the whole operation and know that every tube is sowing. The drill is so combined that there is no weight upon the horse's neck when the driver is on or off the seat.

This improvement, combined with the

Steel Spring Shovel

for rooty and stony ground will clear itself from roots and stones or any obstacle that may come in its way, without the necessity of stopping to replace a broken pin, thereby causing trouble and delay—renders this

The Cheapest and Best Drill

ever offered, and we think that every one did thinking farmer will agree with us in this respect.

At the Ohio State Fair, in September last, in Cleveland, this drill

Took the First Premium

over the Buckeye and Star Drills and others, so the people can form their own opinions in relation to what is thought of these drills at home. It is also conceded that this drill is the

Lightest Draft and the Easiest for the Team

of any drill made. These drills will be on exhibition at the

CORN EXCHANGE, JANESVILLE,

and other prominent places in the state, and also by the numerous farmers who used them last year throughout this county and state. These drills are to be in good order, to work well during the reading, if properly used; to distribute the seed regularly, and sow any quantity of seed per acre, commonly sowed broadcast; to be well made, of good material, and durable with proper care; if the purchaser shall follow the directions accompanying the drills, in using the same.

This drill has been awarded the First Premium at the Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa State Fairs, and for the past three years in succession it has received the first premium at the Ohio State Fair, and all the County and District Fairs where it has been exhibited in competition with all the different kinds of drills manufactured in Ohio and the west.

All Competition Beaten!

Also this drill was awarded the First Premium at the Ohio and Illinois State Fairs in 1861, in competition with (at the Ohio State Fair.)

The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1862 has induced me to

Make Double the Number for 1863,

The principle of the Drill is all that was at first claimed for it. The experience of 1862 enables me to make them just

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil,

which is very difficult to till.
More than three hundred of these drills were used in this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is in the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the

PERFECTLY ACCURATE

of any Drill yet introduced.
The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are longer, sharper and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adapted to the hard and crusty soil of early fall plowing.
Notwithstanding the

Large Advance on Material

we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 tooth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth, $80; 12 tooth, $85; 13 tooth, $90.
To those who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to say anything. Of those who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now

READY FOR EXHIBITION.

They are made at the well-known

Rock River Iron Works

of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills.
To these wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee their

Working to the Entire Satisfaction

of the purchaser, or No Sale.

The Corn Planter Attachment

to the Richardson Drill will plant corn

In Hills Accurately

and any distance apart, from two to five feet, and two or three rows at once.
Mr. W. H. Reed, of La Prairie, used one of the Richardson Twelve Tooth Drills to

Plant Over 50 Acres of Corn

and 100 acres of wheat. He planted three rows of corn at once, and in hills to suit his mind. Any one wishing to know about the planter please inquire of Mr. Reed.

New Woolen Factory

F. A. WHEELER & SONS.

THIS splendid establishment, situated on Main St. a few doors north of the Excelsior Hotel, is now in successful operation. The

Machinery is New and of the best quality. We are therefore prepared to manufacture a Yard of Cassimere or a pound of Stocking Yarn for

Two and a half Pounds of Wool, or 2¼ lbs. of wool and three shillings for manufacturing. Also, all kinds of

FLANNELS AT THE SAME RATES,

according to the amount of wool required to make them.

Wool Carding and Cloth Dressing

Done on Short Notice.

These having Fine Wool to be carded into rolls should have it

Cleansed at the Factory,

as our conveniences are better calculated to do it well. Our price for cleansing is one cent per pound. It is very essential to have wool in good condition, otherwise it injures the card and produces poor rolls. Our carding machine is the best that could be obtained, and cannot fail to make good work. We would invite all who wish to see good machinery or want good cloth, to give us a call. Also, would say to merchants who wish to obtain our cloth, that it would be for their interest to buy wool and get it manufactured, and by so doing, get a good article that they can recommend to their customers.
A good supply of

which will be sold cheap for cash or wool, or exchanged for wool on shares.
These living at a distance can send their wool by railroad or express, with directions, and it will be promptly attended to. Those coming from a distance, with wool to be manufactured, will be kept over night,

FREE OF CHARGE.

We are prepared to make

Plain and Fancy Cassimeres, CHECKED FLANNELS, &C.

Also,

INDIGO DYED CASSIMERES,

Stocking Yarn and Rolls.

And finally, most kinds of cloth and yarn that may be wanted.
We have also made arrangements with a first rate

FANCY DYER,

who will attend to the dyeing of all kinds of silk and cotton goods. Please give us a call.

DAILY GAZETTE.

The Governor's Vindication.

Governor Salomon sent in a message to the assembly this morning, in response to the resolution adopted some days since, transmitting all the correspondence between himself and the federal authorities respecting the draft in this state.

Since the legislature has been in session an attempt has been made by the more malignant stripe of democrats to manufacture political capital by putting, in the form of deliberate assertion, the wildest surmises which their invention could frame on the subject of the Governor's action in enforcing the draft. They have in the legislature and through their newspapers assailed him in the most violent terms for having enforced the draft, alleging that the eastern states were permitted by the war department to raise volunteers for nine months, and that Gov. Salomon made no attempt to obtain such permission, but on the contrary did not desire it, preferring that our quota should be furnished by drafting.

The Governor's message to the assembly, with the accompanying documents, puts the seal of infamy upon those malicious calumniators. It shows that they have deliberately given circulation to falsehoods for which there is not a shadow of foundation, and which could only have originated in the desire to excite sedition and insubordination among the people. It shows that Gov. Salomon again and again applied to the war department to be permitted, instead of drafting, to raise the quota by volunteers for nine months, and was as often refused. It shows also that the war department has never given permission to any state to raise volunteers for nine months. It is true that in some states instead of drafting, such volunteers were raised and accepted afterwards by the war department as substitutes for drafted men, but this was done in states where the governor was empowered by law to adopt such a course, and was furnished with the means for successfully prosecuting it. Here the Governor neither had the authority of law nor the pecuniary means at his control essential for such a measure.

Thus a simple, brief statement of facts throws confusion upon the libellers of Gov. Salomon and the measures of the government. Upon what subject will they next turn their inventive faculties? They are determined to be satisfied with nothing that is done, and of course will at once open up some new vein of calumny and vituperation.—Madison Journal.

"AMENS."—Says Dr. Eddy, in the last North-Western Advocate, "personally we are fond of hearty amens in prayers and sermons. They have an earnestness and inspiration no ways 'faulty.' Yet they are sometimes strangely put in. The other evening at the missionary ratification meeting in New York, Bishop Janes was speaking, and, incidentally, observed he hoped to come to the point of his speech—'Amen,' cried a good brother, causing a burst of laughter, in which the bishop joined. Once a preacher was struggling in the brush for half an hour. At length he extricated himself, and to one of his first appeals came 'Amen.' The preacher looked over the pulpit and said in a low tone, 'If you had said that half an hour ago it would have helped me; now I can get along without it.' But among the most amusing instances, was one which occurred in the general conference of 1860. Mr. Smart, of Detroit conference, an anti-slavery man of the first water, addressed an expostulation to the border delegates desiring them to cease agitation. We of the north-west desired quiet—wanted repose. They should permit us to go on with regular business, &c. This charging agitation home on staid conservatism roused doughty little Dr. H., who goes off like a percussion cap. Springing to his feet he said, 'Well, Mr. President, I think the border brethren had better come forward for prayers.' Before he could finish, Smart looked up in his face, and, in a serio comic manner, said, with a deep voice, 'Amen!' He was willing! The burst of laughter was too much for the adroit doctor, who took his seat, vanquished by an amen."

FATALITY.—Within three months past there have been not less than twenty deaths of children in this city and vicinity from scarlet fever, and more sickness generally than was ever known here before. But we find by our exchange papers that the same is the case in many other places. And we attribute it to our mild, open, unnatural and very unwinterish winter. The thermometer, however, was down to 17° below zero at daylight last Monday morning, for the first time this season, and has been lower since; so that we may reasonably hope a change for the better has at last set in.—Beaver Dam Citizen.

There is an Irishman employed as a bridge hand on the Central railroad, who brags of having a time-piece that keeps correct time. He was heard to remark a few mornings since, upon pulling out his watch: "If the sun ain't over that hill in a minnit and a half, he will be late."

Macaroni says that Buchanan and the Diptheria originated in Pennsylvania.

A party of ladies were the other day discussing the question of draft, when a young lady inquired the reason why men were exempt who had lost but two or three teeth. "Because they couldn't bite off the end of a cartridge." "Then," replied the questioner, demurely, "why don't they soak them in their coffee?"

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

Who take pleasure in placing their Machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1862 has induced me to

Make Double the Number for 1863,

The principle of the Drill is all that was at first claimed for it. The experience of 1862 enables me to make them just which is very difficult to till.

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil,

More than three hundred of these drills were used in this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is

PERFECTLY ACCURATE

In the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the

of any Drill yet introduced.

The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are longer, sharper and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adapted to the hard and crusty soil of early fall plowing.

Notwithstanding the

Large Advance on Material

we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 tooth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth, $80; 12 tooth, $85; 13 tooth, $90.

To those who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to say anything. Of those who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills.

READY FOR EXHIBITION.

They are made at the well-known

To those wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee their

Working to the Entire Satisfaction

of the purchaser, or No Sale.

The Corn Planter Attachment

to the Richardson Drill will plant corn

In Hills Accurately

And any distance apart, from two to five feet, and two or three rows at once.

Mr. W. H. Reed, of La Prairie, used one of the Richardson Twelve Tooth Drills to

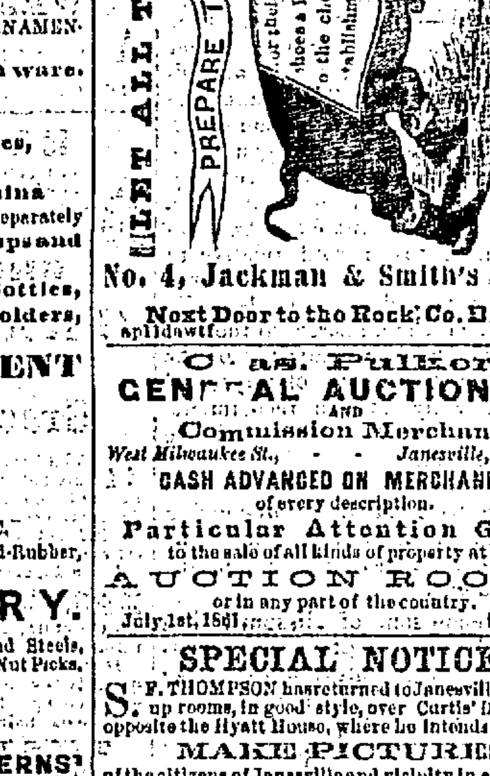

Plant Over 50 Acres of Corn

and 100 acres of wheat. He planted three rows of corn at once, and in hills to suit his mind. Any one wishing to know about the planter please inquire of Mr. Reed.

For more particulars, and to see the drill, call at the Hardware Store of R. J. RICHARDSON, 50,000 lbs. of Wool Wanted!

at the

of

F. A. WHEELER & SONS.

THIS splendid establishment, situated on Main St. a few doors north of the Excelsior Hotel, is now in successful operation. The

Machinery is New and of the best quality. We are therefore prepared to manufacture a Yard of Cassimere or a pound of Stocking Yarn for

Two and a half Pounds of Wool,

or 1¼ lbs. of wool and three shillings for manufacturing. Also, all kinds of

FLANNELS AT THE SAME RATES,

according to the amount of wool required to make them.

Wool Carding and Cloth Dressing

Done on Short Notice.

Those having Fine Wool to be carded into rolls should have it

Cleansed at the Factory,

as our conveniences are better calculated to do it well. Our price for cleansing is one cent per pound. It is very essential to have wool in good condition; otherwise it injures the card and produces poor rolls. Our carding machine is the best that could be obtained, and cannot fail to make good work. We would invite all who wish to see good machinery or want good cloth, to give us a call. Also, would say to merchants who wish to obtain our cloth, that it would be for their interest to buy wool and get it manufactured, and by so doing, get a good article that they can recommend to their customers.

A good supply of

which will be sold cheap for cash or wool, or exchanged for wool on shares.

Those living at a distance can send their wool by railroad or express with directions, and it will be promptly attended to. Those coming from a distance, with wool to be manufactured, will be kept over night,

FREE OF CHARGE.

We are prepared to make

Plain and Fancy Cassimeres,

CHECKED FLANNELS, &C.

Also,

INDIGO DYED CASSIMERES,

Stocking Yarn and Rolls.

And finally, most kinds of cloth and yarn that may be wanted.

We have also made arrangements with a first rate

FANCY DYER,

who will attend to the dyeing of all kinds of silk and cotton goods. Please give us a call.

WANTED!

In exchange for cloth, wool, wool grease, and most kinds of produce. F. A. WHEELER & SON.

DAILY GAZETTE.

The Governor's Vindication.

Governor Salomon sent in a message to the assembly this morning, in response to the resolution adopted some days since, transmitting all the correspondence between himself and the federal authorities respecting the draft in this state.

Since the legislature has been in session, an attempt has been made by the more malignant stripe of democrats to manufacture political capital by putting, in the form of deliberate assertion, the wildest surmises which their invention could frame on the subject of the Governor's action in enforcing the draft. They have in the legislature and through their newspapers assailed him in the most violent terms for having enforced the draft, alleging that the eastern states were permitted by the war department to raise volunteers for nine months, and that Gov. Salomon made no attempt to obtain such permission, but on the contrary did not desire it, preferring that our quota should be furnished by drafting.

The Governor's message to the assembly, with the accompanying documents, puts the seal of infamy upon those malicious calumniators. It shows that they have deliberately given circulation to falsehoods for which there is not a shadow of foundation, and which could only have originated in the desire to excite sedition and insubordination among the people. It shows that Gov. Salomon again and again applied to the war department to be permitted, instead of drafting, to raise the quota by volunteers for nine months, and was as often refused. It shows also that the war department has never given permission to any state to raise volunteers for nine months. It is true that in some states instead of drafting, such volunteers were raised and accepted afterwards by the war department as substitutes for drafted men, but this was done in states where the governor was empowered by law to adopt such a course, and was furnished with the means for successfully prosecuting it. Here the Governor neither had the authority of law nor the pecuniary means at his control essential for such a measure.

Thus a simple, brief statement of facts throws confusion upon the libellers of Gov. Salomon and the measures of the government. Upon what subject will they next turn their inventive faculties? They are determined to be satisfied with nothing that is done, and of course will at once open up some new vein of calumny and vituperation.—Madison Journal.

"AMENS."—Says Dr. Eddy, in the last North-Western Advocate, "personally we are fond of hearty amens in prayers and sermons. They have an earnestness and inspiration no ways 'faulty.' Yet they are sometimes strangely put in. The other evening at the missionary ratification meeting in New York, Bishop Janes was speaking, and, incidentally, observed he hoped to come to the point of his speech—'Amen,' cried a good brother, causing a burst of laughter, in which the bishop joined. Once a preacher was struggling in the brush for half an hour. At length he extricated himself, and to one of his first appeals came 'Amen.' The preacher looked over the pulpit and said in a low tone, 'If you had said that half an hour ago it would have helped me; now I can get along without it.' But among the most amusing instances, was one which occurred in the general conference of 1860. Mr. Smart, of Detroit conference, an anti-slavery man of the first water, addressed an expostulation to the border delegates desiring them to cease agitation. We of the north-west desired quiet—wanted repose. They should permit us to go on with regular business, &c. This charging agitation home on staid conservatism roused doughty little Dr. H., who goes off like a percussion cap. Springing to his feet he said, 'Well, Mr. President, I think the border brethren had better come forward for prayers.' Before he could finish, Smart looked up in his face, and, in a serio comic manner, said, with a deep voice, 'Amen!' He was willing! The burst of laughter was too much for the adroit doctor, who took his seat, vanquished by an amen."

FATALITY.—Within three months past there have been not less than twenty deaths of children in this city and vicinity from scarlet fever, and more sickness generally than was ever known here before. But we find by our exchange papers that the same is the case in many other places. And we attribute it to our mild, open, unnatural and very unwinterish winter. The thermometer, however, was down to 17° below zero at daylight last Monday morning, for the first time this season, and has been lower since; so that we may reasonably hope a change for the better has at last set in.—Beaver Dam Citizen.

There is an Irishman employed as a bridge hand on the Central railroad, who brags of having a time-piece that keeps correct time. He was heard to remark a few mornings since, upon pulling out his watch: "If the sun ain't over that hill in a minute and a half, he will be late."

Macaroni says that Buchanan and the Diptheria originated in Pennsylvania.

A party of ladies were the other day discussing the question of draft, when a young lady inquired the reason why men were exempt who had lost but two or three teeth. "Because they couldn't bite off the end of a cartridge." "Then," replied the questioner, demurely, "why don't they soak them in their coffee?"

City of Janesville.

Saturday Evening, Feb'y 7, 1863.

Official Paper of the City.

Forever float that standard sheet—
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

What War Democrats say of Peace Democrats.

The Louisville Democrat, the leading democratic paper of that state, says:—"There can be no true democracy while treason keeps its armies in the field except war democracy. The office-hunters who, at a time like this, preach peace, peace, in the north, may be democrats in name, but in reality they are tories and traitors, who would be in arms against their government were they living in the so-called confederacy."

We notice, also, that the St. Louis Republican, the leading democratic paper of Missouri, expresses similar opinions in regard to the peace movements of the northern democrats.

The sentiments and arguments put forward by the peace democrats of the north are so identical with those of the secesh of the border states that the loyal papers of those states have become alarmed and are combating them with great vigor. The Frankfort, Ky., Commonwealth of Feb. 2d, says: "We wish the peace party would make their dear friends in the seceded states keep the peace in Kentucky before they cry peace. Their cry of peace means simply to surrender to this rebellion; that is all of it. It means to sell out Kentucky to her mortal enemies, who will never forgive her resistance to the wicked schemes of ambition in the cotton states. Let those who wish such a destiny for Kentucky, cry peace. We shall submit to it when all are subjugated."

These are the feelings of loyal Union men at the south. They now see what will be their fate if the schemes of the northern friends of the rebels are adopted by a majority of the people; they perceive that they are to be sacrificed the moment these enemies of the government succeed in their designs.

What are these plans? It is natural that the Union democrats of the states most exposed to the machinations of these traitors should first discover their programme. The Missouri Democrat publishes a letter from Springfield, Illinois, which lays bare their plans of revolution. This correspondent says:

"A well-digested plan is prepared by the democratic leaders in the western and eastern states. That plan, though revolutionary in its end, is intended not to be so in its means, up to a certain point, if possible. As many legislatures of the free states as can be prevailed on are to be got to send commissioners to Louisville, Kentucky, to meet commissioners from the border and as many of the slave states as possible. If the republican, especially the New England states, do not send commissioners, they are to be left out. If they do, no matter; a plan of compromise is to be offered which will force them out of the Union, thus putting them in the attitude of rebellion. They are not wanted. The confederacy is to comprise the western states and Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, &c.; so that there will be an outlet to the sea on the east via New York, and on the south via New Orleans. When this convention, so-called, at Louisville, meets, it is to be virtually a congress. It will invite the southern states into its deliberations. Of those that come in, and with those of the north that can be got to join it, a confederacy is to be formed, in which slavery is to be legalized and guaranteed in every possible way and abolitionism crushed out. Cut off from New England, it is hoped that free speech and free ideas will be so effectually disposed of as to set at rest forever all agitation of slavery. Indeed, agitation on a great many other subjects is also to be effectually crushed out."

Senator Wright, of Indiana, an old fashioned democrat, in a recent effort in his place in the United States senate, delivered a speech full of pluck and patriotism. He has the courage to denounce and expose the designs of the secesh democrats of the northern states. We copy:

Senators, if ever this capital falls, it will be because of traitors in the north. If you fail to put down this secession movement, if the hour of calamity comes upon us, I make the prediction that it will come from the hand of traitors in the north. I am not sure that there was not a concocted plan within the last ten days to bring into this city two regiments to co-operate with the secessionists with a view to surrender this capital. The rebel emissaries are about you; they may be in these very halls. Sometimes they come under one name, sometimes under another. Sometimes the government is attacked in the name of democracy; sometimes fault is found with arrests; sometimes the army is opposed; but the effect of all these attacks results in the accomplishment of the same bad end, the destruction of the government. I say that every loyal man and woman in this country ought to be protected; but I repeat, and the honest democracy of Indiana will sustain me in the sentiment, if there is no other way to save the country, let destruction do its work among the enemies of the republic, for the government must and shall be preserved, cost what it may.

With these accumulating evidences from well known democrats of the treasonable designs of the leaders of the democratic party in the north, ought not loyal men of that party to pause and think before they commit themselves to its dictation?

Jeff Davis' "retaliation" proclamation is censured, in very strong language, by the London Times, and the rebel president advised not to attempt its enforcement, as it may cause him the loss of the friendship of both France and England.

An Important Revelation.

The Paris Moniteur, of the 16th of December, contains the official documents of the French empire for the year, and a selection from the diplomatic correspondence. The New York Evening Post, of the 3d instant, gives an account of that part of the French "Yellow Book" which relates to the affairs of the United States. As the account is long, we give at present only that portion of it which relates to an interview with Mr. Seward, and the agency that functionary had in the visit of the French minister to Richmond last spring. We think it rather extraordinary, and worthy the consideration of the people:

M. Mercier replies to M. Thovenel, March 31, 1862, that, according to his instructions, he had held an interview with Mr. Seward, and was awaiting the news of the fate of New Orleans. The French minister afterwards reports a conversation which he had held with influential personages; and who, in answer to his remark that the war increased daily the bitterness between the north and the south, said: "We do not expect to reunite (rattacher) the south with us against its will, but we hope that, after having relieved it from the influence of its present leaders, and having given it a severe lesson, it will return to the right path. We are resolved to carry on the test to the end, and if afterwards the majority of the states persist in a separation, we will let them have it." M. Mercier believes that this is the ruling opinion in the north; that the mass of the public is beginning to get tired of the war, but that its conservative instinct still binds it strongly to the Union, and which it hopes to see preserved by a melange of victories and concessions.

A dispatch, bearing date April 13, throws a little light upon the journey undertaken to Richmond by Baron Mercier, and which created such excitement at the time. It appears that he undertook it at the suggestion of Mr. Seward himself, who then believed in the speedy re-establishment of the Union, and without having previously informed the French government of his intention. Before his departure M. Mercier came to an understanding with Lord Lyons, and reported to Mr. Seward that the object of his journey was not connected with the recognition of the south, but only an attempt to bring about an arrangement. The secretary charged him to state at Richmond that the north was actuated by no sentiments of revenge, and that great satisfaction would be afforded to the inhabitants by the sight of such senators as the south might consent to send.

A Thrilling Incident of the War.

Nine or ten years ago a citizen of one of the towns in the eastern part of Massachusetts was unjustly suspected of a crime which the statute cannot easily reach, but which deservedly brings upon him guilty of it the indignation of upright men. There were circumstances which gave color to the suspicion, and the unfortunate gentleman suffered the misery of loss of friends, business and reputation. His sensitive nature could not face these trials, and he fell into a condition of body and mind which alarmed his family. At length, having invested his property where it could be easily managed by his wife, he suddenly disappeared, leaving her a comfortable home and the care of two boys, of ten and twelve years. The first fear that he had sought a violent death was partly dispelled by the orderly arrangement of his affairs, and the discovery that a daguerreotype of the family group was missing from the parlor table. Not much effort was made to trace the fugitive. When, afterward, facts were developed which established his innocence in the crime with which he was charged, it was found impossible to communicate with him; and as the publication of the story in the columns of several widely circulated journals failed to recall him, he was generally supposed to be dead.

At the outbreak of the present civil war, his eldest son, now a young man, was induced by a friend, a captain in a western regiment, to enlist in his company. He carried himself well through campaigns in Missouri and Tennessee, and after the capture of Fort Donelson was rewarded with a first lieutenant's commission. At the battle of Murfreesboro he was wounded in the left arm, but so slightly that he was still able to take charge of a squad of wounded prisoners. While performing this duty he became aware that one of them, a middle-aged man, with a full, heavy beard, was looking at him with fixed attention. The day after the fight, as the officer was passing, the soldier gave the military salute, and said:

"A word with you, if you please, sir. You remind me of an old friend. Are you from New England?"

"I am."

"From Massachusetts?"

"Yes."

"And your name?"

The young lieutenant told his name, and why he came to serve in a western regiment.

"I thought so," said the other, and turning away, he was silent. Although his curiosity was excited by the soldier's manner, the officer forebore to question him, and withdrew. But in the afternoon he took occasion to renew the conversation, and expressed the interest awakened in him by the incident of the morning.

"I knew your father," said the prisoner. "Is he well?"

"We have not seen him for years. We think he is dead."

Then followed such an explanation of circumstances of his disappearance as the young man could give. He had never known the precise nature of the charges against his father, but was able to make it quite clear that his innocence had been established.

"I knew your mother, too," continued the soldier. "I was in love with her when she married your father."

"I had a letter from her, dated ten days ago. My brother is a nine months' man, at New Orleans."

After a little desultory conversation, the soldier took from under his coat a leathern wallet, and disclosed a daguerreotype case. The hasp was gone, and the corners were rounded by wear.

"Will you oblige me," he said, "by looking at this alone in your tent?" Agitated almost beyond control, the young officer took the case and hurried away. He had seen the picture before! It represented a man and a woman, sitting side by side, with a boy at the knee of each.

The romantic story moved the commander of the division to grant the youth a furlough, and both father and son reached home last week.

LEGISLATION.—By private advices from Madison we learn that Mr. Rountree has obtained his seat in the assembly, in place of Mr. Harms who had the certificate. In the senate, the President being absent, as well as several republican senators, the democrats elected Sat. Clark president pro tem. until Monday evening.

Old Dr. Beecher once prayed: "O Lord we pray Thee that we may not despise our rulers; and, O Lord, we further pray that they may not behave so that we cannot help it!"

THE MODERN ARNOLD.

Fitz John Porter Branded and Turned Loose.

The Revolutionary struggle produced a traitor Arnold; the second war with England produced another—Hull; and the third war for American liberty has produced a third—Porter.

Passing over the period when Porter was the pet and secret emissary of the thief and traitor Floyd, and was sent by that miscreant on a confidential mission to Fort Sumter; and passing over his insidious advice to the loyal soldier in command that "were he in charge, he would not attempt to defend the work, if attacked from the land side;" passing over his performances when acting as chief of staff under Patterson during the first battle of Bull Run, when by his advice and influence the force of Patterson was withheld from reinforcing or helping McDowell, which caused the carnage and disasters of that dreadful day; passing from thence, we trace Porter as the leading adviser of the long and inglorious inactivity before Manassas; the engineer who protracted the disgraceful siege of Yorktown; the strategist who deliberately planted his batteries in a ravine (in one of the seven days' battles), instead of on a hight, while he streamed his regiments before a raking fire of the enemy; the beau sabreur who fled precipitately from the sneers of brave McCall, when the butternut lines were advancing upon them at Gaines' Mill; the traitor who failed Pope at Centreville, and the ungrateful comrade who, when Burnside was sinking under the accumulated weight of Hill and Longstreet, at Antietam, refused reinforcements out of the 30,000, which had stood idle under him during all the fierce temptations of that day. His whole career, therefore, is one consistent current of darkly suspicious acts; and, at the end, he stands convicted by the solemn judgment of his peers, of a villainy which equals the measure of the worst that had been thought of him before. It is seldom that, in the course even of the longest life, one man has the opportunity for so much evil as Fitz Porter found in the space of twenty months; and that he improved all the occasions which were thus presented, no one who has read the testimony in the recent trial, and been an observer of his previous career, can, for a moment, doubt.

The charges against him in that proceeding were, that having, while at Warrenton Junction, Virginia, on the evening of the 27th August last, received an urgent order from General Pope to move forward at one o'clock on the following morning to Bristow Station, (which was but nine miles distant,) in order to be able to attack the enemy at daylight; he deliberately disobeyed that order, went to sleep upon it, and did not begin to move his men till daylight. The second charge was, that on the day but one afterward, to-wit, the 29th of August, he, while in sight of the enemy, at the distance of but a mile and a half for seven hours, did, after receiving an order to attack, shamefully turn his back upon the foe, whose inferior force he might easily have crushed, and march from the sound of the hostile cannon with his whole division, thus leaving the exhausted federal forces to be outnumbered and driven disastrously back upon Arlington Hights and Alexandria.

The testimony on the second charge makes some astounding revelations. It appears that on the morning of the 20th, Porter and McDowell were ordered to move forward together on a given road, and follow it till they met the enemy, unless McDowell, who ranked Fitz John, should decide that any considerable advantages were to be gained by pursuing a different course. On arriving at a certain point in their march, McDowell decided that the commands had better be separated, and informing the accused that he, McDowell, would move on with his division, and attack the enemy upon the centre, directed him to take a road leading to the left where the rising dust showed that the enemy might there be taken in the flank. The accused, however, instead of receiving the order with the spirit of a soldier, merely pointed with his hand to the dust rising above the trees and remarked—"We cannot go in there, anywhere, without getting into a fight." The answer of McDowell was—"That's what we came for!" whereupon being full of his business he hurriedly rode off. Porter then, in a mere semblance of obedience ordered a portion of his forces, under Griffin, to move forward, but when they had advanced about 600 yards he directed them to halt. In this position he remained till after five o'clock p. m., with his 13,000 well appointed men, perfectly idle before an inferior number of the foe, who all the while were contributing to harrass and overwhelm our centre. Amazed at Porter's absence from the fight, Pope at length sent him an order dated at half-past four p. m., "to push forward into action at once, on the enemy's right flank, and, if possible, upon his rear." This order was delivered to him at half-past five o'clock, he received it while lying down under a shade tree, and without attempting to obey, he continued reposing in the same manner, during the twenty minutes the messenger remained. In noticing the testimony on this point, Judge Holt employs the following language:

"The accused had, for between five and six hours, been listening to the sounds of the battle raging immediately to his right. Its dust and smoke were before his eyes, and the reverberation of the artillery was in his ears. He must have known the exhaustion and carnage consequent upon this prolonged conflict, and he had reason to believe, as shown by his note to Generals McDowell and King, that our army was giving way before the heavy reinforcements of the enemy. He had a command of some 13,000 fresh and well appointed troops, who had marched but a few miles, and had not fought at all on that day. Under these circumstances, should not an order to charge the enemy have electrified him as a soldier, and have brought him not only to his feet and to his saddle, but have awakened the sounds of eager preparation throughout his camp? But the bugle note of this order seems to have fallen unheeded, and after reading it, and at the close of an interview of from fifteen to twenty minutes, the messenger who bore it, turned away, leaving the accused still 'lying on the ground.'"

In a little while after the departure of the messenger, Porter gave an order to fall back, and deliberately retired altogether from the theater of the still raging battle. All this was known two days afterward by McClellan, yet he retained Fitz John as his chief corps commander, and permitted him to perform the same part, with 30,000 men, at the subsequent battle of Antietam.

It is further stated by Judge Holt that the members of the Court were convinced, from the testimony "that a vigorous attack upon the enemy by the accused, at any time between twelve o'clock, when the battle began, and dark, when it closed, would have secured a triumph for our arms, and not only the overthrow of the rebel forces, but probably the destruction of Jackson's army." This opinion, in effect, is emphatically expressed by Gens. Pope, McDowell and Roberts, and by Lieut. Col. Smith, all of whom participated in the engagement, and were well qualified to judge. Gen. Roberts, who was on the field throughout the day, says: "I do not doubt at all that it would have resulted in the defeat, if not the capture of the main army of the confederates that were in the field at that time." To the same effect is the explicit language of Gen. Pope, while McDowell says that, "even had the attack itself failed, the number of troops which would have been withdrawn from the main battle by the enemy to effect this result, would have so far relieved our center as to render our victory complete."

Upon such revelations and such proofs as these, did the court unanimously find Fitz John Porter guilty of the crimes alleged against him; and upon their virdict did the President strike the malefactor from the rolls and declare him to be hereafter utterly unfit to wear a sword, or to hold any office of trust or profit under the government of the United States. It was a punishment far short of the measure of the crime; for the culprit should have been run up to a limb, or at least led out and shot. But the President, doubtless credit ed him with some remaining sensibility to human shame, and therefore judged it to be a keener penalty to force him to live and walk about among his former fellow men, with a brand upon his forehead which stamps him not only as the murderer of Kearney and of Stevens, but the real betrayer of Antietam and both battles of Bull Run. He therefore stalks an outcast, bearing upon his brow the mark of Cain, inviting, but for the decorum of the law, the pistol of every loyal man, and worthy only of the commiseration of the chief who so unduly pampered and advanced him. —*N. Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the 33d Regiment.

MOSCOW, Tenn., Jan. 22d, 1863.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Since I last wrote you we have moved forty miles northward and are now located forty miles east of Memphis, on the Memphis and Charleston railroad. We left Holly Springs one week ago last Saturday night, and reached this place the following Monday. Holly Springs has been a place of considerable importance, a seat of enterprise, prosperity and refinement. The streets are laid out regularly and adorned with much taste, while the suburbs abound with many elegant private residences that would be a credit and an ornament to any city. Several large railroad machine shops, whose ruins are fitting emblems of the decay and desolation that the ravages of war have spread over the face of this whole land, are mournful evidences of former mechanical industry, thrift and skill. The whole place suffered from Van Dorn's raid, many of the fairest portions being razed with the ground, and when our troops abandoned it, the work of devastation and destruction was complete. Up to the the time of our arrival hither we had been favored with as fine dry roads as I ever saw, but now the wet season has set in we have nothing but rain and mud. Transportation was comparatively easy, now 'tis totally impracticable, and our long march and counter-march of two hundred miles, after God knows what, is brought to a halt for the present. We may have accomplished much, but we can't see it, unless it be found in cotton bales and irrepressibles. Snow fell here to the depth of four inches, but rain succeeding it snow disappeared.

I think I have given you a fair description of our tents and told you of their total inadequacy to supply us with shelter from the storm. They are the famous D'Aubrie or shelter tent and are but the shadow, if a shade better than none at all. They will not turn heavy rain, while both ends are open, and so low are they that one is perforced to get onto his hands and knees to get into them. They are certainly the poorest excuse that could possibly be devised, and to keep dry in one is out of the question. Not one in fifty has a constitution sufficient to withstand the hardship and exposure attendant upon our manner of living, nor can we think but that in a great measure such privations are unnecessary. It is a lasting shame to our government that thousands, aye millions of dollars are spent for superfluities, while we are exposed to the inclemency of every storm and denied the shelter which is indispensably necessary to our existence as an effective army. It is short sighted enconomy that denies the soldier a positive necessity, and may be they will find it out some day. Hundreds of this regiment are now on the sick list for want of shelter, and if the dog kennel policy is persisted in two months we shall not be able to muster 400 men for duty. A member of my own company, Corporall Sam. E. Lyon, a man brave, generous and true, died a short time since in the general hospital at Holly Springs, a victim to shelter (?) tents. If there is one thing more than another calculated to dampen a man's ardor or cool his patriotism, it is treatment such as this. We expected to endure hardships and fatigue, and to be deprived of home comforts, but it does not flatter us to have the government suppose that when we became soldiers we ceased to be men. We enlisted to put down the rebellion and to aid in re-establishing law and order where they had been subverted; and we had a right to expect that the government would duly appreciate our self-denial and patriotic promptings, and not refuse us articles indispensable to a good sanitary condition; and like the Spartans of old, we feel that we are not born for ourselves alone but for our country also, and we have a right to suppose that she will welcome to her arms and cherish every one of her brave sons, who may hazard his genius or worth upon her battle-fields. All we ask is the indispensables and an early and honorable peace.—We want a more vigorous policy, dull delay, we deprecate, and an unnecessary absence from home grows irksome. Give us able men, in whom we can place unbounded confidence, generals whom we can follow to certain victory. Then to fall will be a boon coveted by all, for if there is an honor which the American soldier conceives to be higher, purer, nobler than any other it is that of being permitted to die in the defense of his country. This is not mere declamation, but the honest expression of the sentiments of hundreds with whom I have conversed on the subject.

We have been twice threatened by Van Dorn, with six thousand cavalry, but he has not yet ventured an attack. When he does, he will meet with a warm reception, as we are on the qui vive for him. The old regiments are getting two months pay, but 'tis doubtful about the new ones receiving any at present. Many threaten desertion before they will allow their families to suffer at home for want of their protection and care. I am under obligations to you for several copies of the Gazette and hope the favor will be extended. But I have trespassed too long already. More anon.

Last Night's Report.

FORT DONELSON, Feb. 5.

A great battle was fought here Tuesday, Feb. 3d, between the 83d Illinois, commanded by Col. Harding, and Flood's battery, amounting to some 700 men, against Forrest's, Wheeler's and Wharton's rebel forces, comprising 5000 troops.

The attack was made by the rebels about 1 p. m., and raged furiously until 8 o'clock, when the rebels retired. The defeat was perfect, they leaving in great disorder. Their flight was precipitated by forces under Col. Lowe, from Fort Henry, who reached here about 12 at night.

The enemy's dead are yet being brought in. Their loss is not less than 200 killed and 600 wounded.

Our loss is twelve killed and forty-one wounded and missing. The enemy have retreated southward.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 6.

Rumors, not traceable to any authority, prevail that Morgan's force in Kentucky contemplate a raid on Lexington, and the banks and business men there have gathered their money and valuables preparatory to an escape. It is also reported that Shelbyville has been captured by federal troops.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7—5 A. M.

A special from Cairo to the Tribune says that a Memphis despatch announces the arrival of the steamer Adaline from Vicksburg. The ram Queen of the West ran the blockade on Monday morning at daylight. A hundred heavy siege guns opened on her as she steamed past. The rebel steamer also opened fire on the Queen, which she replied to, and the rebel steamer was crippled. The Queen was under fire three-quarters of an hour.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Special to Tribune.—There were two circles of blockading ships off Charleston harbor. The outer one, in deep water, was seven miles from Sumter; the inner one was upon the bar. Sailors in the navy department are certain that the rebel ironclads went down only to the latter. They were not calculated for the deep and rough water beyond, and it is declared that they did not go near to, or menace the second circle of large blockaders. Gen. Rufus King has been appointed military governor of Norfolk, vice Gen. Viele, who will be transferred to a more active command.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Times' special.—The house committee of ways and means had informally under consideration to-day the senate's amendments to the finance bill. The committee accept them all except the reduction of legal tenders. They will insist upon three hundred millions, but allows the secretary to judge of the necessity of their issue. The senate finance committee and Secretary Chase are in entire accord relative to the finance bill. The views of the house committee of ways and means is also daily approaching nearer and nearer to those of the senate. The finance committee of the senate, and the committee of ways and means, will probably unite on recommending a tax of ½ per cent. on all speculative transactions in gold.

The Spanish minister here has received a royal decree from Madrid, announcing that passports from foreigners will not be required hereafter in traveling through the Spanish dominions.

Senator Henderson, of Missouri, has just received the following telegram in regard to the senatorial contest in that state:

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 5.

Glover and Breckenridge withdrawn,—Brodhead 58, Brown 45, Phelps 46.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.

Herald Special.—The case of General Buell is concluded and the finding of the court transmitted to the President.

A. James, formerly prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio, has been appointed associate judge advocate general in this city, with rank of major. D. Pratt has been appointed assistant inspector general with rank of lieutenant colonel.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

By an arrival at Suffolk from Richmond, we learn that the new Merrimac is now lying between seven and eight miles below Richmond. It is pierced for two guns on each side and will carry one forward and aft. The vessel is pronounced by many a failure, while others are confident of its success. Four other iron-clads are in process of construction there. The rebels are throwing up earthworks in every direction for the defence of the rebel capital.

Advices have been received from Dominica, WestIndias, to the 26th of January. The U. S. steamer San Jacinto called there to inquire after the Alabama. The British war ship Vesuvius was at Bermuda on the 27th of January, and reported that the French army had been defeated in an attack on Puebla, and had lost 3000 men.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

The World's correspondent with Banks' expedition, writes that Farragut's fleet is so diminished that it wont be possible to attack Port Hudson until reinforced.

Advices from Galveston, via Havana give Col. Boles proclamation to foreign consuls notifying them and all foreign subjects, and all otherns concerned, that Galveston is liable to be attacked any day by the U. S. forces; 24 hours will be given for the innocent and helpless to withdraw.

The reported defeat of the French in Mexico proves to have been a Mexican rumor. By last advices the French seige trains were advancing towards Orizaba, from which point a column was to march to co-operate with columns from Jalapa, both columns to unite at a point four leagues distant from Puebla, where a stout resistence is anticipated.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 6.

Gen. Davis with cavalry and artillery have been sent to intercept the rebels who attacked Donelson under Morgan. We buried 135 rebels at Donelson. The rebel Gen. Forest was wounded.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

HOUSE.—The house resumed the consideration of the Illinois and New York ship canal bills.

Mr. Kellogg thought that the discussion would not change a vote, but he wanted to show that as early as 1787, the question was agitated of connecting the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Mexico.

SENATE.—A communication was received from the secretary of the interior asking an increased appropriation for land offices in Kansas.

The house bill for an increased efficiency in the commissary department, was passed.

TWO SHOOTING CASES.—A man named McGinnis was shot at Camp Utley, Racine, by a soldier named Hewit last week. No cause assigned for the act. McGinnis is not expected to live. Another similar affair occurred at Madison. John Ward, a shoemaker, was shot by Geo. D. Harwood of the 25th regiment. A difficulty originated in a ball room; a scuffle ensued: Ward used a knife, when Harwood drew a pistol and shot Ward, who died Wednesday.

☞ Mr. Stevens declared in the house of representatives, on the 2d inst., that he "believed the democrats at the North were holding secret meetings under the league of Knights of the Golden Circle, with the view of seizing control of the government and the person of the President."

☞ We have it upon the authority of "Burleigh," the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, that Mr. A. T. Stewart, of New York, has refused to sell cotton goods at any price, and that he has been engaged in buying up all the goods he could purchase; that empty stores have been taken, warehouses rented and filled to the rafters with goods; and this done, he closed sales, and waits for coming events.

DIED.

At Overton Hospital, in Memphis, Tenn., on the 23d day of December 1862, of typhoid fever, N. A. BABCOCK, only son of Manville and C. S. Babcock, in the 18th year of his age.

The deceased was a young man of unusual promise, of an unblemished character, with a heart filled with all those generous impulses that make up the nobler attributes of man. He leave a large circle of friends, who mourn his untimely death, and who deeply sympathize with the grief stricken parents in their sad bereavement. Mr. Babcock enlisted from the town of Linn, Rock county, in Co. E, 33d regiment Wisconsin volunteers, Capt. Ira Miltimore. In the hour of his country's peril, the deceased nobly responded to his country's call, and has given his young life to purchase the liberty of the nation and protect it from destruction by traitor hands. Nobly done. Nobly died.

The funeral obsequies were performed at Lima Center on the 25th of January, 1863. Services being performed by Mr. Wiltse, of the city of Janesville, who deeply interested a large audience for the space of one hour. The text used: He is not dead, but sleepeth.

GRAIN DRILL

AND

Grass Seed Sower.

HAVING sold over three hundred of these drills in this state the past year, and and eleven hundred having been used in northern Illinois and this state during the same time, all of them giving satisfaction, has induced me to advertise some of the peculiar properties of this drill over others.

It is a double rank drill, with a driver's seat attached or not at the pleasure of the purchaser. It will sow all kinds of grain and grass seed. It will not break or cut the grain, and will sow from ½ to 6 bushels per acre.

It will sow correct when driving fast or slow. The quantity is gauged without any change of gear, can be easily changed from double to single rank, can in sowing use one half the drill or less if desired.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

is so attached that the operator can drive and work his drill with perfect ease, without the trouble of getting off to turn around, and he sits in such a position that he can see the whole operation and know that every tube is sowing. The drill is so combined that there is no weight upon the horse's neck when the driver is on or off the seat.

This improvement, combined with the

for rooty and stony ground will clear itself from roots and stones or any obstacle that may come in its way, without the necessity of stopping to replace a broken pin, thereby causing trouble and delay—renders this and other prominent places in the state, and also by the numerous farmers who used them last year throughout this county and state These drills are

This drill has been awarded the First Premium at the Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa State Fairs, and for the past three years in succession it has received the first premium at the Ohio State Fair, and all the County and District Fairs where it has been exhibited in competition with all the different kinds of drills manufactured in Ohio and the west.

Legislative.

FRIDAY, Feb. 6.

In the SENATE, Mr. Lawrence presented a memorial on the subject of the delinquent tax list and legal advertising.

Senator Rich's resolution of yesterday making inquiries as to the depreciated currency in the state treasury, was adopted.

Senator Bohan introduced a bill granting aid to families of men drafted into the military service of the United States from the state of Wisconsin, at the rate of $5 per month each.

Senator Cameron's bill to extend time in which deer may be killed, to the 12th of January, was passed.

In the ASSEMBLY, Mr. Hanson presented the memorial of the supervisors of Winnebago county, for the repeal of laws authorizing the publication of delinquent tax lists.

By Mr. Turner, presented two memorials on the same subject, from the Wisconsin State Editorial Association; Mr. Pullen's resolutions against the practice of introducing and spending the time of the session on buncombe resolutions and in discussing merely political questions, was hotly opposed by the democratic members. After some discussion it was tabled. The democratic members who last week were howling for the correspondence in regard to the draft in this state, all voted against printing that correspondence, now it has been laid before them. They have survived their desire to let the people see that correspondence. Nevertheless, 5,000 copies were ordered printed.

The bill making conveyances by sheriffs, &c., prima facie evidence of title, was rejected. This afternoon the assembly is engaged upon the contested seat case between Messrs. Harms, the sitting member, and J. H. Rountree.

Grain Drills.

The Richardson drill is one-fifth easier for the team than any Ohio drill introduced.

It is more accurate in its distribution of the grain than any other made.

It will plant corn in hills any distance desired.

There is no other drill that will plant corn in hills.

The Richardson is sold at a price less than any Ohio drill.

It is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every particular.

fe5d3t-w2t R. J. RICHARDSON.

How much Grain will be Sown in Rock County this Spring?

There are four hundred thousand acres of land in Rock County. It is safe to estimate that one tenth of this will be sown to grain, making forty thousand acres. It will require ten thousand bushels less to sow this with a RICHARDSON Drill than it will to sow the same broadcast. Any farmer who sows eighty acres of wheat can save twenty bushles of seed by getting one of the Richardson Drills. Twenty bushels of seed wheat is worth twenty-five dollars.

fe5d3d-w2 R. J. R.

TO SKATERS.—All persons interested in skating are requested to meet on Monday, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the river above the railroad bridge, each one bringing a broom, for the purpose of sweeping the snow from the ice. By order of the Skating Committee.

[Published February 6, 1863.]

AN ACT to change the times of holding the terms of the circuit court for Rock county.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The terms of the circuit court for Rock county shall hereafter be held at the following times: 1. A special law term on the second Monday in February in each year hereafter; but no term shall be held under the provisions of this act on the second Monday of February, 1863. 2. A general term of said court shall be held on the third Monday of May, and on the first Monday of December, in each year.

Sec. 2. All writs, process and recognizances returnable at the June term of said court, are hereby made returnable to the term hereby required to be held on the third Monday of May; and all writs, process and recognizances returnable at the November term of said court, as now fixed by law, are hereby made returnable to the December term, as fixed by this act. Said May and December terms shall be jury terms.

Sec. 3. This act shall be published immediately, and shall be in force from and after its publication.

Approved February 5, 1863.

THE DRAFT IN MICHIGAN TO BE COMMENCED IMMEDIATELY.—The Adjutant General of Michigan has issued an order to the draft commissioners to commence the draft within five working days after receiving the order. The drawing will be made in the ordinary mode of drawing the names of jurors.

OBTAIN only the genuine Brown's Bronchial Troches which have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS should use the Troches. Lyon's Kathairon.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually. It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is again known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively rich luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

Legislative.

FRIDAY, Feb. 6.

In the SENATE, Mr. Lawrence presented a memorial on the subject of the delinquent tax list and legal advertising.

Senator Rich's resolution of yesterday making inquiries as to the depreciated currency in the state treasury, was adopted.

Senator Bohan introduced a bill granting aid to families of men drafted into the military service of the United States from the state of Wisconsin, at the rate of $5 per month each.

Senator Cameron's bill to extend time in which deer may be killed, to the 12th of January, was passed.

In the ASSEMBLY, Mr. Hanson presented the memorial of the supervisors of Winebago county, for the repeal of laws authorizing the publication of delinquent tax lists.

By Mr. Turner, presented two memorials on the same subject, from the Wisconsin State Editorial Association; Mr. Pullen's resolutions against the practice of introducing and spending the time of the session on buncombe resolutions and in discussing merely political questions, was hotly opposed by the democratic members. After some discussion it was tabled. The democratic members who last week were howling for the correspondence in regard to the draft in this state, all voted against printing that correspondence, now it has been laid before them. They have survived their desire to let the people see that correspondence. Nevertheless, 5,000 copies were ordered printed.

The bill making conveyances by sheriffs, &c., prima facie evidence of title, was rejected. This afternoon the assembly is engaged upon the contested seat case between Messrs. Harms, the sitting member, and J. H. Rountree.

Grain Drills.

The Richardson drill is one-fifth easier for the team than any Ohio drill introduced.

It is more accurate in its distribution of the grain than any other made.

It will plant corn in hills any distance desired.

There is no other drill that will plant corn in hills.

The Richardson is sold at a price less than any Ohio drill.

It is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every particular.

fe5d3t-w2t R. J. RICHARDSON.

How much Grain will be Sown in Rock County this Spring?

There are four hundred thousand acres of land in Rock County. It is safe to estimate that one tenth of this will be sown to grain, making forty thousand acres. It will require ten thousand bushels less to sow this with a RICHARDSON Drill than it will to sow the same broadcast. Any farmer who sows eighty acres of wheat can save twenty bushles of seed by getting one of the Richardson Drills. Twenty bushels of seed wheat is worth twenty-five dollars.

fe5d3d-w2 R. J. R.

TO SKATERS.—All persons interested in skating are requested to meet on Monday, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the river above the railroad bridge, each one bringing a broom, for the purpose of sweeping the snow from the ice. By order of the Skating Committee.

[Published February 6, 1863.]

AN ACT to change the times of holding the terms of the circuit court for Rock county.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The terms of the circuit court for Rock county shall hereafter be held at the following times: 1. A special law term on the second Monday in February in each year hereafter; but no term shall be held under the provisions of this act on the second Monday of February, 1863. 2. A general term of said court shall be held on the third Monday of May, and on the first Monday of December, in each year.

Sec. 2. All writs, process and recognizances returnable at the June term of said court, are hereby made returnable to the term hereby required to be held on the third Monday of May; and all writs, process and recognizances returnable at the November term of said court, as now fixed by law, are hereby made returnable to the December term, as fixed by this act. Said May and December terms shall be jury terms.

Sec. 3. This act shall be published immediately, and shall be in force from and after its publication.

Approved February 5, 1863.

THE DRAFT IN MICHIGAN TO BE COMMENCED IMMEDIATELY.—The Adjutant General of Michigan has issued an order to the draft commissioners to commence the draft within five working days after receiving the order. The drawing will be made in the ordinary mode of drawing the names of jurors.

Lyon's Kathairon.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually! It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is again known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively rich luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

The facilities we possess for carrying on our

ENORMOUS BUSINESS

are unsurpassed. We have one of the best

Arranged and most Commodious Stores in the state; and a resident buyer in New York in addition to E. McKey, who spends nearly all his time there, which enables us to that offers, whether at auction, private or bankrupt sale. Our European connection is under the superintendence of M. F. McKey, who spent four months there last fall, and will again proceed thither next spring.

It is needless to expatiate on the immensity of our resources: we will merely state that all our goods are

BOUGHT FOR CASH.

It is conceded by all that we do the Largest Dry Goods Business in the state; our sales during the past year in our various stores amounting in the aggregate to the handsome total of $350,000—

Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars!!!

This we have achieved by doing our business on the go ahead, Young America principle of

Selling Cheap

and knocking the spots off all the old foggy and fossil remains of merchants that ever presumed to compete with us. And this, for the

BENEFIT OF THE PEOPLE,

we shall continue to do at our

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.
In the matter of the estate of John Doyle, deceased.

ON reading and filing the petition of Thomas Thorp, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come to his hands and the disposition thereof, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased and a description of all the real estate of which said deceased died seized and the condition and value of the respective portions thereof, and praying that license may be granted to him to sell so much of the said real estate as may be necessary to pay the debts of said deceased, the costs of administration and the expenses of the funeral and last sickness of said deceased; and it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts and said costs and expenses, and that it is necessary in order to pay the same to sell part of said real estate, it is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before this court at the office of the judge thereof, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the first Monday of February next, at ten o'clock A M, then and there to show cause why license should not be granted to said administrator to mortgage, lease or sell so much of said real estate as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses, and that a copy of this order shall be personally served on all persons interested in said estate residing in the said county at least fourteen days prior to said hearing, and shall be published four successive weeks prior to said day, in the Weekly Gazette and Free Press, a weekly paper published in said city. GREAT REDUCTION
—IN—
The Prices
—OF—
SINGER & CO.'S
STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for
Manufacturing Purposes:
No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,
Reduced to $70.
No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,
Reduced to $70.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.

In the matter of the estate of John Doyle, deceased.

ON reading and filing the petition of Thomas Thorp, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come to his hands and the disposition thereof, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased and a description of all the real estate of which said deceased died seized and the condition and value of the respective portions thereof, and praying that license may be granted to him to sell so much of the said real estate as may be necessary to pay the debts of said deceased, the costs of administration and the expenses of the funeral and last sickness of said deceased; and it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts and said costs and expenses, and that it is necessary in order to pay the same to sell part of said real estate, it is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before this court at the office of the judge thereof, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the first Monday of February next, at ten o'clock A M, then and there to show cause why license should not be granted to said administrator to mortgage, lease or sell so much of said real estate as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses, and that a copy of this order shall be personally served on all persons interested in said estate residing in the said county at least fourteen days prior to said hearing, and shall be published four successive weeks prior to said day, in the Weekly Gazette and Free Press, a weekly paper published in said city. GREAT REDUCTION

—IN—

The Prices

—OF—

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $70.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the [?]

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

A New Hartford Convention.

Our readers know that there was a large party in the eastern states who were opposed to the war of 1812, and that a convention of these opponents of that war was held in Hartford, Conn., for the purpose of stopping the war. It was then and has ever since been regarded as a disloyal convention, and the individuals who composed it, as well as the party which sanctioned it, were afterwards held in reprobation by the great mass of the loyal people of the country. It made no difference in this general condemnation that many of the persons interested in that movement claimed to be honest and patriotic in their designs, the fact that they held a convention to oppose the war, while hostilities were in existence, was sufficient to stamp their acts with disloyalty and treason. Such was the public verdict upon the men of that day who interposed obstacles in the way of the successful prosecution of the war, and such will again be the case whenever men so far forget their duty to their country as to combine against the efforts of the government to put down its armed foes.

A convention is about to be convened of the disloyalists of this time, for the purpose of weakening the government and aiding the enemies of the country. A proposition has been made in the Kentucky legislature to appoint commissioners from that state to meet those of the states of Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania, "to confer in relation to the affairs and exigencies of the nation." A resolution has been adopted in one branch of the Indiana legislature to appoint commissioners to this convention, and a similar resolution has been presented in the Illinois legislature, coupled with a proposition for a recess until June for the purpose of further legislation after the convention has been held.

We take it as a compliment that Wisconsin is not invited to co-operate with this new Hartford convention of tories. The reputation of the Badger state for loyalty and patriotism has shielded her from the suspicion that she would countenance a proceeding so far as to send delegates to take part in its proceedings.

Doubtless in the days of the old Hartford convention the men who originated it supposed they had the majority of the people with them, and anticipated the success of their efforts to dragoon the government into a peace. They were just as mad and violent in their proceedings as the copperheads of our day. But the sober second thought of the people put the stamp of infamy upon their doings, and scarcely a man who sympathized with them ever obtained political favor afterwards. The latest mistake of that kind was the election of James Buchanan, who was an ardent supporter of the party which originated the Hartford convention. From this fact, and from the other prominent and notorious fact that the democratic party which elected him is engaged in this new movement at Louisville for giving aid and comfort to the enemy, we conclude that the present democratic party, and the old federal party of 1812, have interchanged spirit and sentiment, until they are one and the same, and ready to sacrifice their country and all its precious interests, for the success of party.

Brick Pomeroy in the Cotton Business.—The La Crosse Republican of Thursday, says that the following letter received that morning from Helena, Arkansas, was written by a gentleman who is well known in La Crosse as a man of veracity and intelligence, and that they have no hesitation in vouching for its truthfulness. They would regard his word in any business transaction as trustworthy, and they know him as a man of integrity and loyalty:

LETTER FROM A LA CROSSE VOLUNTEER.

Helena, Ark., Jan. 29th, 1863.

There seems to be many surmises in relation to the real object of Brick P.'s visit to Helena, Arkansas. Perhaps a soldier in a Wisconsin regiment now stationed at this place, who knows B. personally, might be able to throw such light upon the matter as will place the defunct editor in true colors before the good citizens of La Crosse.

Brick first made his appearance in this army at Clarendon, Ark., some ten days since. He seemed anxious to obtain an interview with General Gorman, who was at the time of his (Brick's) arrival, at Duval's Bluff, a point on White river forty miles above Clarendon.

On the return of General Gorman to Clarendon, Brick lost no time in paying his respects, and seemed quite jubilant over the result of the interview.

Adjutant Scott's mustang was brought into requisition by the notorious editor, (perhaps I ought to say Q. M.) and accompanied by several prominent officers and about half a dozen enlisted men of the 2d Wisconsin cavalry, he started upon an expedition into the country, the object of which was then unknown to your correspondent.

About 9 o'clock the same evening, the party returned, escorting two ox loads of cotton—in all, six bales—which Brick pretended to have bought at the rate of 16 cents per pound, and was to pay for the next day.

According to arrangement, the owner of the cotton appeared at the appointed time, but was unable to find Brick. The Butternut, determined not to be swindled out of his cotton, concealed himself on board the steamboat Silver Wave, where the cotton had been stored, until the boat should leave its moorings and start en route for Helena, when he boldly came forth from his hiding place and inquired for Brick, clamoring loudly for his pay; but the peace of the boat was not to be disturbed under any such circumstances; so the boat was ordered to land, and Mr. Butternut very unceremoniously thrust ashore, with the advice to go home, mount his mule, and take the overland route to Helena, where he would obtain redress.

Now it is well known to every officer and soldier in this army, that no citizen can come within our lines except as a prisoner.

Brick and his colleagues played their card well, euchred the poor man out of his cotton, and sold it at Helena for the neat little sum of $1,600.

The above are facts, a majority of which came under my own notice, and are known to many prominent officers at this place.

General Gorman needs all the puffing that Brick is capable of, to keep him above water. J. P.

From the Thirteenth Regiment.

Fort Henry, Tenn., Feb. 1st, 1863.

Messrs Editors:—Undoubtedly the many friends of the 13th would be glad to hear from us occasionally through the columns of the Gazette. The 13th is still located at Ft. Henry and perhaps is destined to remain here for some time to come, which, I am certain, would suit most of the officers and men, for the reason that we are comfortably situated, the most of us having log houses extra, while many of the officers have their wives with them, which takes off the burden of war to a great extent. I hear it reported that the 13th is assigned to a new brigade, I cannot vouch for the truth of it; if true we may soon be ordered down the river to assist in the reduction of Vicksburg. However much we may be attached to this post, we would willingly leave it if by so doing we could better assist in crushing this gigantic rebellion, and help to advance the cause of the Union and maintain the principles of the constitution. We want to see some prospects of peace; it is evident that we are all tired of war; we have now been in the service longer than we thought it would take to end the war. Many times we have felt discouraged and disheartened at the conduct of the war and almost given up all hopes of a country; but the love of home and family, and the principles we have cherished, and the blessings of a free government, are too great to put in the balance against tyrany and despotism, therefore we are constrained to toil on and think it is all right, and, that an all wise being has a hand in the affairs of the nation, and in his good time will bring us out of the fire purer than before. May heaven grant it speedily; it is true that many of us feel less patriotic than we did one year ago, but I think the confederate auxillaries in the north are responsible for in, in a measure.

I have just heard it reported that we are set off into Gen. Rosecrans department, but are not assigned to any brigade; we cannot place much confidence in reports, therefore I cannot say how true it is.

During the past month the weather has been quite unpleasant. It has rained almost continually since our big snow storm, so we have had battalion drill and dress parade but a few times since we got back from our last expedition.

The 13th is in good health generally and in fine spirits. Co. F. 13th R. W. V.

Johnstown, Rock Co.

Mr. Richardson—Sir: I am told that you are making the Jessup Grain Drill again this year. Last spring I bought one of the Ohio ten-tooth drills. I do not like it on account of its being so hard for my team. I have a pair of heavy horses, that will weigh about 2600; yet it is so hard for them that they were very sore and lame when I was done seeding last spring. My nearest neighbor had one of your ten-tooth drills, and used it with a pair of three-year old colts. He went over more acres per day than I did, yet his colts were not injured in the least.

Please tell me what you will charge me to exchange one of your drills for my Ohio drill. I paid $80 for mine.

Fire in Beloit.—We learn that a serious fire occurred in Beloit yesterday, at 4 o'clock in the morning. All the buildings between Durham's block and Collins' block—nine business places—were consumed. Most of the movable property was saved. The buildings burned were mostly wooden structures, of no very great value, excepting one brick store, which had been built a number of years. We are unable to learn the extent of the loss, or the origin of the fire.

☞ The Washington Star publishes a manifest of the cargo of the steamer Princess Royal, lately captured while attempting to run the Charleston blockade. Her load would have been worth millions of dollars to the rebels. She was cleared for Vancouver's Island by Lindsay & Co.—the Mr. Lindsay of which firm last year moved in his seat in parliament that the British government should no longer acknowledge the blockade because of its inefficiency. The total value of the cargo at London, without insurance, was $434,200. The vessel itself is one of the fastest and best built iron propellers ever turned out of a British ship-yard. She is of 494 tons burden. Among the goods shipped were 800 at. brandy, 151,761 lbs. coffee, 60,000 do. gunpowder, 30,000 do. tin, 12,875 do. pepper, 5000 do. sterine candles, 53 tons sheet iron, 500 boxes tin plates, 144 do. hardware, 8,350 lbs. paper, 24 packages drugs, besides thread, buttons, hosiery, boots, shoes and leather, and machinery of various kinds.

Accident on the Railroad.—A freight train ran off the track on the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien road, at Genesee, on Saturday, throwing off eight cars and smashing them considerably. Nobody hurt.

Resolutions Adopted by the Bankers' Association.

At a meeting of the Bankers' Association of Wisconsin, held at the Newhall House, February 3, 1863, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, All classes of the citizens of Wisconsin, and especially its responsible bankers, have suffered severely in the past from the issue of bank notes by irresponsible parties, and

Whereas, The suspension of specie payment, and the stimulus given to all forms of industry and trade by the immense expenditures of the national government, and the large amount of legal tender notes it has been necessary to issue, furnish at the present time a strong inducement to those engaged in banking, to issue a larger circulation than their actual capital would justify; while an opportunity is also afforded to parties of little or no responsibility or capital, to organize banks with scarcely any other object in view, than to set afloat a currency which, however well it may keep up for a time, may, on the decline in value of its security, or the resumption of specie payments, eventually become depreciated, thereby causing a recurrence of all those troubles and losses which the business interests of our state so recently experienced; and

Whereas, The present time is unusually favorable for the issue of bank notes by persons of doubtful responsibility, we believe such a currency must now be discouraged in every legitimate way, and that it behooves every responsible banker in the state to co-operate with and strengthen the wholesome restraints imposed by law to check this evil, and ward off its deplorable results: We therefore feel impelled by our duty to the business community and citizens generally, as well as our regard for the character and safety of the banking institutions of our state, to adopt the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Bankers' Association of Wisconsin, will not receive the notes of any banking institution which may be hereafter established in this state, unless said bank shall first have been sanctioned by a majority of the directors of this association.

Resolved, That no banking institution now in existence in this state shall add to its circulation without having first received the written consent of a majority of the directors of this association, and in case any bank shall do so without such consent, we agree not to pay out its notes but proceed to wind it up by protest.

Resolved, That when a majority of the directors of the association, decide to sustain the establishment of a new bank, or an increase of the circulation of an old one, they shall publish a notice to that effect over their own signatures for two weeks in two of the daily newspapers of Milwaukee, and a new Bank or the new circulation of an old one shall not be considred to have received the approval of a majority, of the directors of the association, until such public notice has been given.

Resolved, That the directors of the association be instructed, and are hereby instructed to carefully and impartially scrutinize the character and condition of the existing banks of this state, and if any of them are found in their judgment to be in a condition so unstable and unreliable as to render their continuance incompatible with the public good, and as likely in time of financial trouble to bring loss on the community and injury to the more stable banks of the state, they shall proceed to wind up all such banks without delay, inasmuch as they can now do so without loss to the public; and their attention is more especially called to those banks who have no office, and are not engaged in the transaction of a regular local business, but are exclusively banks of circulation.

Resolved, That whenever the directors of this association shall deem it advisable to wind up any bank, as contemplaned in the foregoing resolutions, they shall notify the several banks of this association, and upon the receipt of such notice we hereby severally agree to assort and send to our correspondents in Milwaukee the circulation of such bank.

Whereas, Since the last meeting of this association, death has taken from us one of our directors and one of our most esteemed and useful members, the lamented John G. Imbusch, Resolved, That we desire to express our sense of the great loss our association and the community have sustained by the death of Mr. Imbusch, and that we warmly sympathize with his family and relations in this bereavement.

Brutal Treatment of Union Prisoners.—Six privates of Co. K, 89th Illinois volunteers, who were captured at Murfreesboro on the 29th of December, were conveyed for twelve days in box cars, all over the south, seventy men in a car, which had carried horses and mules, and were not cleaned out before the prisoners were put in them. They were confined in the Libby prison at Richmond for fourteen days, and their stockings, drawers, shirts, overcoats and blankets were taken away from them. They were finally sent to our lines, covered with filth and vermin. Contrast this with the kind and humane treatment the rebel prisoners are receiving at Camp Douglas. That dastardly treasonable sheet, the Times, has been expressing great sympathy for them, and by the most infamous lies attempting to enlist the sympathy of the public. What does it think of this treatment of Union men, for whom it has never spoken a favorable word since the war broke out?—Chicago Tribune.

Large Prices for Sheep.—It is something of an index of the value our farmers are putting upon sheep at the present time, that a gentleman of our acquaintance paid $6 per head for a flock of fine sheep in Michigan, a few days since. A Sangamon county wool grower also informs us that he was recently offered $6 per head for his entire flock of 2,600. A farmer in Du Page county has two crops of wool, from a large flock of sheep, on hand, preferring wool to bank notes or "green-backs," in the present state of national affairs. If, as is thought, the product will bring $1 per pound soon, it will be money well kept.

Memphis, Feb. 5, via Cairo, Feb. 6.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.—The steamer Adeline has just arrived from Vicksburg. She left the fleet still opposite the city. A terrible snow storm is in progress. The ram Queen of the West ran the blockade and braved the rebel batteries, on Monday morning, at daylight.—Over 100 heavy siege guns belched forth their contents upon her as she steamed swiftly past. The noise of the cannonading was terrific. A rebel boat also opened fire upon the Queen, which the Queen returned, and crippled the rebel steamer. The Queen then passed to the foot of the canal, and there stayed until 1 p. m., when she left for the point below. A line of lower batteries then opened upon her. The Queen went through in safety—nobody hurt. It is a feat, the accomplishment of which should make Capt. Sutherland's name stand among the best and bravest Union officers. The Queen, at the lower batteries, was under fire for three quarters of an hour.

Last Night's Report.

Memphis, Feb. 5, via Cairo, 6th.

Thomas H. Yeatman, special agent of the treasury department, to-day seized 108 bales and thirty-seven bags of cotton bro't up from below Helena in violation of special orders. The cotton is said to be the property of Compton & Ranger, but rumor says that high military authorities are part owners, and Gorman is mentioned.

Certainly Gorman's skirts have long borne the imputation of a secret co-partnership with Ranger, a Jew, owning the steamer Evansville, and Col. Compton, who runs that craft. Certainly, also, the Evansville has been the recipient of trading facilities, under Gorman's special orders, denied to other steamers. The government may gain by looking into Gorman's gormandizing operations.

Memphis, Feb. 5, via Cairo, 6th.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—There is but little here new to-day, except that our forces are cutting a new canal at Yazoo Pass, which enables our gunboats to go past the rebel fortifications on the Yazoo. This will be finished in a few days, as there are but some levees to cut to make it complete. The movement has been kept very quiet, but I suppose it can be made public now. They are also cutting a new canal this side of the old one.

We have advices from our fleet at Vicksburg to Sunday afternoon. Preparations for a great demonstration were in progress. The water is running through Farragut's ditch, or canal, as it is called, at a slow rate. It is about five feet wide. Efforts are making to deepen it. It is about one mile and a half long, and only about half of it is commanded by the enemy's guns.

Steam dredging machines have been sent for, with which it is proposed to deepen the canal.

Preparations are making to run the blockade. It was reported that the Carondelet has already run the enemy's batteries, and was at the mouth of the canal, but the report is not confirmed. There has been no indications of success from Port Hudson.

Sickness among our troops still continues. Many of our troops are down with diarrhea. No doubt is entertained at the fleet of the ultimate fall of the rebel stronghold.

Cairo, Feb. 7.

Special to Chicago Journal.—The steamer Jennie Deans arrived this morning from Vicksburg, which place she left on the 1st. She brings the remains of Captain Mason Sutherland, of Co. E, 113th regiment Illinois volunteers, who died on the 24th ult. His body is in charge of Lieut. U. R. Burlingham, who informs me that the number sick in the army near Vicksburg is not less than ten thousand. He thinks, however, that most of them are improving. The cause of this extensive indisposition, he thinks, is the great length of time they have been kept cooped up on board the transports.

Nothing of importance was transpiring. There is no truth in the report that the Carondolet had run the blockade and was at the mouth of the canal; neither is it possible that any demonstrations will be made soon.

The transports were kept at Young's Point, where most of the troops are encamped, to take them on board in case the water should break through the levee which is feared.

An expedition of boats had started for Lake Providence, to look for a place through which boats may pass to the Mississippi below Vicksburg. It is said there is a bayou leading from the lake to the river thirty miles below Vicksburg, which, it is believed, is navigable for boats at this stage of water. Lake Providence is on the Louisiana side, above Young's Point, and is entered from the bend of the river, known as Lake Providence bend.

The musket gunboat Glide, Capt. Dahlgreen, (R. A. Turner, executive officer,) took fire in her hold this morning, at about 6 a. m., and was soon cosumed. She was towed into the stream by a tug, and allowed to float to the Kentucky shore, where she sunk in shallow water. Her battery of six 24-pounders, engines and other iron works will be recovered. She was formerly a stern-wheel transport, and was remoddled at Cincinnati. She came up from the squadron about one week ago, and was undergoing repairs. She was laden with subsistence and ordnance stores, and the loss is estimated at $60,000.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

New York, Feb. 9.

The Herald has the following, dated Stafford Court House, 8th:

An order has been issued, dissolving the three grand divisions and returning Gen. Sigel to the command of the 11th corps. The corps is being concentrated. The work of reorganizing the army is progressing.

The Times's dispatch states that Gen. Hamilton, it is said, has received assurances that a Texas expedition will shortly be fitted out, which will have for its object the reclamation of that state to the Union. The chief command will probably be given to Gen. Butler, Gen. Hamilton to have a subordinate command.

The Tribune's special says the ways and means committee is hurrying up its business with vigor. It will report amendments to the tax bill, probably on Friday. Chase's bank bill is under consideration—the 18th section has been reached. When reported to the house it will be modified from the draft so as to confer upon the President, instead of the Secretary, the large appointing power conferred by it, and to take out of it the coercive feature of the scheme in favor of existing banks.

The friends of the repeal of the duty on paper will rejoice to hear that at the close of the committee's session, yesterday, it very doubtful if a majority could be had against it.

From the official report from our side relative to the Charleston affair, it appears that a valuable British vessel was discovered trying to get into Charleston harbor, and was captured by the blockading fleet. The captain and some of her crew escaped to the shore and two rebel rams came out, and two of our vessels were injured, but both were towed off, and we kept the prize. The blockading vessels went out to sea quite a distance, as usual, but returned to their post at night.

One of our gunboats was destroyed by fire near Cairo the other day."

Geo. Francis Train was arrested at St. Louis on Saturday, and ordered to leave state in half an hour.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

New York, Feb. 9.

Flour dull and heavy, 5a10c lower.—Wheat active, 1,55 Chicago spring; 1,54a1,60 Milwaukee club. Corn unchanged, 93a94. Pork dull. Whisky dull. Stocks dull and lower. Gold 55¼.

New York, Feb. 9.

Rebel prisoners captured from the Huntress report that when they left Charleston, that the rebel gunboats were preparing to make a dash at our vessels. Only waiting for our iron clads to go to Port Royal to join the Ogeeche fight. They state that the rebel iron clad Chicora is a fine vessel, 1000 tons, six feet above the water, armed with the best English rifles. The British steamers Herald, Hero and Ariel were at Charleston on the 27th. The Hero had 2,200 bales of cotton and probably escaped on the night of the attack. The Ariel had 1,200 bales waiting a chance to run. A Key West fisherman reported being spoken by the Alabama, which was watching for the Circassian. Deserters from Mobile report great dissatisfaction there.

Washington, Feb. 9.

House.—Mr. Dawes, from the committee on elections, reported against receiving John B. Rogers from Tennessee and Lewis McKenzie from the 7th district of Virginia. The house resumed the consideration of the ship canal bill. Mr. Babbett thought the present no time for entering upon so extensive a work which was mainly of a commercial character.

Mr. Morehead received a letter from admiral Foote showing there was not sufficient water at the mouth of the Ohio to take up gunboats to the lakes. Com. Davis coincided in that opinion. All practical men looked upon the project as preposterous.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.

The Princess Royal has aboard, beside a large amount of arms and ammunition, the complete machinery for the construction of an iron ram; also as a passenger, an intelligent English mechanic who is well versed in the process of making and hardening projectiles.

New York, Feb. 9.

The Richmond Examiner of the 5th and the Enquirer of the 6th, have been just received. They contain some news of importance.

Charleston, Feb. 3.

The British frigate Cadmus brings intelligence that a most formidable naval and land expedition is about to attack Charleston. Preparations being now ready and completed. The Cadmus brings orders for Robert Burch, British consul, to go on board the Cadmus and get to Havana as soon as possible.

He will leave next Saturday. The Yankee land and naval forces are gathering at Port Royal. It is supposed that the troops are drawn chiefly from the North Carolina coast. The iron-clad Ironsides was still off the bar this morning, with another steamer.

Vicksburg, Feb. 3.—The Yankee ram Queen of the West went down the river yesterday afternoon with the supposed intention of destroying the shipping between this point and Port Hudson. She was fired into at Warrenton, but with no effect.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 4.—The federal ram Queen of the West, which passed Vicksburg Monday morning, arrived and landed at Vidalia, opposite Natchez, the same evening. A guard of men was sent ashore, who attempted to capture Col. Z. York, but he escaped. The ram then steamed down the river, doing considerable damage.

Chattanooga, Feb. 4th.—The following dispatches, received by mail from Dechend, dated January 31st: The enemy advanced 12 miles from Murfreesboro, yesterday, with one brigade and six pieces of artillery, on a foraging expedition. They made a vigorous attack on our cavalry, shelling us back a short distance. We concealed ourselves in the woods near Forestville. Anderson's brigade, which fortunately arrived, repulsed them with the loss of 300 killed and wounded. Our loss small.

Heavy skirmishing may be looked for daily. Gen. Johnston has issued a congratulatory order to the army of Tennessee and will direct future movements.

Profitable Ride in the Passenger Cars.

The other day a lady entered a Green street passenger car, to ride from Broad street to the post office. The car was well filled, but an obliging stranger, relinquishing his right, gave her his seat. The lady thanked him for his courtesy.

The lady sat down. On her right was a gentlemanlike person in plaid trowsers and maroon-colored overcoat. The plaid of his trowsers was rather extensive, his legs resembling sections of a green house window. His coat was of the material known as chinchilla cloth, while his hat was a satin beaver article of painful brilliancy. A diamond cluster ring of considerable value sparkled upon the little finger of his right hand.

The lady admired the ring. The man displayed it in a manner to attract attention. At the corner of Eighth and Green streets the car jolted, and the man leaned heavily for an instant against the lady. She fancied that she felt a hand that didn't belong there, in her pocket, and instantly thrust in her own. As she did so two men got off. One was the person who had given her his seat; the other was the man with the diamong ring. In another minute the lady ascertained that her pocket-book was gone. In that same minute the two men in question had disappeared from view.

The lady informed the conductor she had been robbed, but the conductor could do nothing, and the other passengers had nothing to offer but condolence. As the portmonnaie contained but seven dollars and a half, the lady didn't care about gratifying their curiosity by further explanation.

Alighting at her destination, the lady chancing to withdraw her hankerchief from her pocket—the one from which the portmonnaie had been taken—heard something drop upon the floor. It was a resplendent diamond ring! She recognized it at the first glance. It was the very ring worn by the individual in stunning plaid who had ridden beside her. He had undoubtedly stolen her pocket-book, but in doing so his ring had been drawn off and remained in the lady's pocket.

The lady, after asking advice, took the ring to a Chestnut street jeweler, who gave for it his check for $500. The net profit made by the lady on her ride was $493.45; the precise sum, barring five cents, lost by the plaid gentleman in the satin beaver tile. On Monday the lady, walking past Eighth and Chestnut streets, met the individual in plaid. He flushed crimson at her glance, recognizing her on the instant.—She smiled serenely, and he slunk away.—Whether he knew that his ring passed into the possession of the lady, is more than we know; but a showy woman, in tremendous crinoline, supposed to be a friend of the man in plaid, was at the office of the railraad company hunting the lost jewel.

Jesse D. Bright's Wife a Treason Agent.—The Starkville (Miss.) Banner, of January 17th, says it has just learned from a reliable and authentic source, and accords full evidence to the report, that Senator Bright's wife, of Indiana, crossed General Bragg's lines in possession of sealed dispatches for Jeff. Davis; the contents of which, as announced, solicit the confederate government to receive into its confederation the states of Illinois and Indiana, and in fact all the states west of the Mississippi.

The petroleum trade has become so important in Pittsburg that an Oil Exchange has been regularly established. It is held in the board of trade rooms.

How the Republicans Elected their U. S. Senator in the New York Legislature.—The mode of electing U. S. senator in New York was this: The republican caucus nominated Gov. Morgan, and the democrats Erastus Corning. In the senate there is a clear republican majority. In the house there is a tie—64 to 64, counting Callicott, the speaker, with the democrats. When the ballot was taken in the house, the republicans cast sixty-four votes for Morgan—but one more was necessary. Callicot voted for Dix, and announced his determination to stick to him. On the second ballot the republicans voted with Callicot for Dix, thus giving him sixty-five votes, and nominating him. The senate, in the meantime, nominated Morgan. The two houses having nominated different persons, in accordance with the constitutional requirement a joint convention was held, and in this convention—the republicans having ten majority in the senate—Morgan was elected. Fernando Wood wanted the democratic caucus nomination, as an endorsement, but the Albany regency said no. Wood received twenty votes from New York, but could not get a single country member to support him. So he went under—and he swore and breathed threatenings and slaughter against the regency, when they should again call upon his party in New York city for thirty thousand majority. The rural districts don't like Wood. His strength lies in the Five Points and similar localities of the metropolis.

☞ A correspondent of the Syracuse Journal says, that in the midst of the recent attempt to move the army of the Potomac, a soldier got "stuck" in the road, nearly up to his waist in mud, just as Gen. Burnside and staff rode by. Quoting the words of the General's address to the army of the morning before, he took off his cap, made a low bow, and very politely said: "General, the auspicious moment has arrived." Despite the cares weighing upon him, Burnside smiled out loud, so that he could have been heard a quarter of a mile, as did everybody else within hearing.

☞ A letter to the Boston Traveler, dated Newbern, N. C., Jan. 27th, says the expedition for Wilmington had started. The iron-clads are already at work. "Two of our company, who have just come up from Beaufort, state that they could hear them pelting away at something all day, and that they had already reached the walls of Fort Fisher, at the mouth of Wilmington harbor. Our position here is strongly fortified, and it will be next to impossible for the rebels to capture the place."

☞ The Baltimore American is very severe on the secession speeches of Henry May, member of congress from that city. It says he has been patiently forborne with, and it will not be the fault of a loyal sentiment if he is not watched hereafter, and dealt with promptly as his merits deserve.

GRAIN DRILL
AND
Grass Seed Sower.

HAVING sold over three hundred of these drills in this state the past year, and and eleven hundred having been used in northern Illinois and this state during the same time, all of them giving satisfaction, has induced me to advertise some of the peculiar properties of this drill over others.

It is a double rank drill, with a driver's seat attached or not at the pleasure of the purchaser. It will sow all kinds of grain and grass seed. It will not break or cut the grain, and will sow from ½ to 5 bushels per acre.

It will sow correct when driving fast or slow. The quantity is guaged without any change of gear, can be easily changed from double to single rank, can in sowing use one half the drill or less if desired.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT
is so attached that the operator can drive and work his drill with perfect ease, without the trouble of getting off to turn around, and he sits in such a position that he can see the whole operation and know that every tube is sowing. The drill is so combined that, there is no weight upon the horse's neck when the driver is on or off the seat.

This improvement, combined with the Steel Spring Shovel
for rooty and stony ground will clear itself from roots and stones or any obstacle that may come in its way, without the necessity of stopping to replace a broken pin, thereby causing trouble and delay—renders this
The Cheapest and Best Drill
ever offered, and we think that every candid thinking farmer will agree with us in this resp ct.

At the Ohio State Fair, in September last, in Cleveland, this drill
Took the First Premium
over the Buckeye and Star Drills and others, so the people can form their own opinions in relation to what is thought of these drills at home. It is also conceded that this drill is the Lightest Draft and the Easiest for the Team of any drill made. These drills will be on exhibition at the CORN EXCHANGE, JANESVILLE,
and other prominent places in the state, and also by the numerous farmers who used them last year throughout this county and state. These drills are to be in good order, to work well during the seeding, if properly used; to distribute the seed regularly, and sow any quantity of seed per acre, commonly sowed broadcast; to be well made, of good material, and durable with proper care; if the purchaser shall follow the directions accompanying the drills, in using the same.

This drill has been awarded the First Premium at the Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa State Fairs, and for the past three years in succession it has received the first premium at the Ohio State Fair, and all the County and District Fairs where it has been exhibited in competition with all the different kinds of drills manufactured in Ohio and the west.

ALMOST A FIRE.—Our office caught fire, yesterday morning, and the result came near being quite serious. Adam Skelly, one of our compositors, went into the office about ten o'clock in the forenoon, and attempted to build a fire in the stove. Not succeeding very well, he poured some benzole from a can procured from another part of the office, upon a stick of wood, and before he could get the stick into the stove it communicated to the can, and to a stand which had a considerable quantity of papers connected with it. The fire was soon subdued by the efforts of Mr. Skelly and others who had been attracted by the alarm of fire, the can in the mean time having exploded, and the stand with its papers being pretty much burned up. It was a narrow escape from an extensive fire. Mr. S. is usually a very careful young man, but like many others, thought he could use such an inflammable substance as benzole to kindle a fire, without danger. He found his mistake, however, and will not be very likely to undertake it again. It should be a warning to every one to use all sorts of inflammable fluids with great care, and only for the purposes for which they are designed. The benzole is used in our printing operations, and is never kept near a stove, or where it can possibly ignite from fire, unless removed from its proper place.

Mr. Skelly was considerably burned on his hands and face, and although unthinking in the use of the benzole, worked with persistent energy and courage in subduing the fire after it had occurred, and probably by his efforts prevented a very serious loss.

LECTURE.—By request, Rev. E. J. Goodspeed will deliver a lecture on "The Bible and Shakspeare," on Friday evening of this week. The proceeds of the lecture will be appropriated to making some improvements in the Baptist church.

This lecture has been delivered three different places and well received. Where it was first delivered Mr. G. has been requested to repeat it. Admittance: Lady and gentleman, 25 cents.

By order of Committee.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.—Weighed in the balance of a just criticism, all are obliged to admit that the scales of Fairbanks & Co. are, without exception, the best ever invented. We know whereof we affirm, because we have tested their value, and are fully satisfied of their superior merits. The introduction of these scales has wrought a revolution in the transaction of various business, and their accuracy is such that a uniformity in weights has been established all over the country, thus making them a national, legalized standard. Nor are they confined to the United States; they have found their way to almost every part of the civilized world, and are adapted to the standards of all countries, so that it may be said, all nations, if not "weighed in these balances," at least weigh by them.—Hunt's Merchants' Magazine. dawlt

By order of the goverment, goods shipped from New York to the West must hereafter have a special permit from the Custom House. The object is to prevent contraband goods from reaching the rebels.

A bill has been passed by the senate of Minnesota expelling the Sioux from that state. The house will undoubtedly concur in the measure.

It is stated, as a curious summing up of christain benevolence in the United States, that the annual income of all the great mission societies united, is $2,500,000.—This is about the cost of an iron-plated frigate, and less than the excise tax paid on the single article of tobacco.

The marriage of General Tom Thumb and his Lavinia is surely coming off on the 10th inst. The ceremony is to be performed by Bishop Potter, in a large and fashionable Episcopal church in New York, the rector of which only consents to open it for the purpose upon condition that the name of the church shall not be divulged at present.

BUSINESS ON LAKE SUPERIOR.—The annual report of the superintendent of the Sault St. Mary Canal, to the Governor of Michigan, says that during the last year there passed through the ship canal $12,000,000 worth of copper and iron, and general merchandise to the value of $10,000,000. The number of vessels, sail and steam, that passed through the canal was 838; and the aggregate tonnage was 319,612 tons. In 1861 the number of vessels was 527 and the tonnage 276,637 tons. The tolls collected on the canal are six cents per ton, making an income of $21,676.79. The trade last year may be divided as follows: Iron, pig and ore, 150,000 tons; copper, 9,300 tons; general merchandise, 8,000 tons.

A COTTON GORMAN-DIZER.—The St. Paul Union adds its testimony to the accumulating weight of evidence that is piling up against General Gorman who is in command at Helena, who seems to have a weakness for cotton. The Union says:

Not long after Gorman assumed command on the lower Mississippi, advices reached many of his friends here, that the time had arrived when they could "pitch in" and make their "pile," since which time some familiar faces have been missed from their accustomed haunts. Cotton is evidently the curse of our cause in the Mississippi valley.

God help the country, if it has many such generals as Gorman in the army.

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.
In the matter of the estate of John Doyle, deceased.

OF

STANDARD MACHINES
Well known to be the best for

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,
Reduced to $70.

Singer's Letter A Machine,
Is the best Machine in the world for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,
FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

LEATHER WORK,

In Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines [illegible]

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, badly made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed; simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machines as a gift.
